16TH YEAR. NO. 273. EAST LIVERPOOL, O., TUESDAY, APRIL 30, 1901—12 PAGES. TWO CENTS

SCREEN ORDINANCE VOID IN JUDCE HOLE'S OPINION

Holds That It Covers Too Wide a Scope and Is In Conflict With the Statutes of Ohio.

SALOON MEN CAN NOW FILE PETITION IN ERROR

The Finding of Mayor Davidson, Who Fined the Three Defendant, $50 Each and Costs, Is Reversed at the Cost of the City—Position of the Liquor Men's Attorneys as to the Unconstitutionality of the Ordinance Sustained—An East Liverpool Couple Divorced.

Lisbon, April 30.—(Special.)—As announced by Judge Hole yesterday, his decision in the cases brought to test the validity of the East Liverpool screen ordinance, which were sumbitted to him at the close of the last term of court, was handed down today. The opinion is a long one, covering 17 pages of typewritten manuscript, but summed up in one sentence, it declares the ordinance void, and sustains the motion for leave to file a petition in error in common pleas court.

This ruling reverses the finding and judgment of Mayor Davidson at the cost of the city, and while given in the case of Aaron Guthrie, a similar ruling was made in the cases of David A. Devine and John C. Walsh, defendants in error against the city, who brought actions under different sections of the ordinance. This ruling was made for the reason that the screen ordinance was too broad in its scope and utterly failed to make any provision for the exceptions which the state law requires to be made.

These exceptions are contained in section 8 of what is known as the Dow law and are made in favor of those selling liquor by prescription, issued in good faith by reputable physicians in active practice, or for exclusively known mechanical, pharmaceutical or sacramental purposes. This section also allows sales of intoxicating liquors, made from the raw material, to be sold at the manufactory, in quantities of one gallon or more.

Guthrie, Devine and Walsh were arrested in East Liverpool on April 10 under the new ordinance, and were charged with having, at the hour of 9:30 p. m. (10:30 in East Liverpool) used more than one room for the sale of intoxicating liquors. They were convicted and fined $50 and costs each, when Guthrie filed a motion, claiming that the ordinance was void for the reason that it was inconsistent with the laws of the state and beyond the power delegated by the state to municipalities. He also claimed that it was unreasonable and in contravention of the constitution of the United States and that of the state of Ohio. Error was charged against the lower court in a number of instances.

Court has granted a divorce to Mrs. Mary A. Calhoun from William Calhoun, of East Liverpool. The original action was filed here in January, 1898. In January last a supplemental petition was filed, alleging more serious charges against the defendant. Calhoun was first charged with drunkenness and gross neglect, but during the past year the plaintiff claims that she has discovered that he has been guilty of criminal misconduct with Alice Emmerling. The Calhouns were married in 1871 at New Brighton.

The cases of George W. Iler, receiver of the bank of Garrett, against Maria M. Stevenson and Millie Todd against Daniel Todd were dismissed.

In the case of John P. Shivers against Reasin Shivers et al, the report of the commissioners was confirmed and an order of public sale issued for 79.39 acres in Wayne township and 39.82 acres in Madison township. The first tract has been appraised at $1,120 and the latter at $400. The sale will take place on the premises May 29, at 10 o'clock.

The board of education held a short session in the directors' room, Central building, last night. Members Vodrey, Hill, Wells, Smith and Murphy being present.

A proposition was received from J. Howard Maxwell, manager of Rock Springs park. He said:

"We wish to submit for your consideration a propsition for an outing for the East Liverpool public schools, as follows:

"The East Liverpool and Rock Springs street railway will furnish transportation for all regular school scholars, teachers, superintendent and directors over its lines; free admission to grounds for a day to be agreed upon, using special cars for transportation to those who are entitled to the same. The only necessary expense for the board to bear is the providing of a ticket to indicate who are entitled to the privilege.

"This is offered as a compliment to the East Liverpool public schools and their directors by the East Liverpool and Rock Springs Street Railway company, the East Liverpool Bridge company and those interested in Rock Springs park.

"If this proposition is agreeable to you, will you kindly appoint a committee to have charge of the arrangements and confer with the undersigned in completing same? Trusting that you will act on this matter at your earliest convenience, I remain,

"Yours truly,

"J. HOWARD MAXWELL."

A. T. Kelly, Superintendent Rayman and W. B. Hill were appointed by the chairman and they will confer with Mr. Maxwell. A date will be fixed for some time during the month of May.

John C. Wallace was the only applicant for the position of school enumerator, and he was retained. The books and documents for the work have been ordered and the task will be commenced immediately upon their arrival. He will receive $75.

Superintendent Rayman made a report on the high school lecture course, and the official announcement made of the closing of the school term on May 31. The matter of ordering diplomas was left in the hands of the superintendent. The graduating class this year will contain 28 members, the largest in the history of the schools.

Jumped the Track.

Car No. 15, in charge of Conductor Deitz, jumped the track at the foot of Broadway at noon today and caused a transfer for over 30 minutes.

GOES TO THE WORKS

CARRAHER STARTS FOR CANTON THIS MORNING.

Other Prospective Guests for the Workhouse—Police Win Praise for Their Stand.

W. L. Blackmore was arrested by Pat Woods last night on a charge of intoxication. The man hails from Chester, and as he has no money with which to pay a fine he may get a trip to the workhouse.

Officer Mahoney contribuated another victim to the list of vagrants last evening in the person of Nattie Marland. The authorities had planned to send Nattie to Canton today in company with "Chongeye" Carraher, but about the time the papers were made out it was discovered that Marland had a subpoena in his pocket summoning him to the county seat to testify before the grand jury on Thursday.

Different arrangements will have to be made for the disposition of his case when the grand jury is through with him.

Officer Mahoney accompanied Carraher to the works this morning, and it is likely that there will be a number of similar trips made within the next few days.

The authorities are being commended on every hand for their stand against loafers and bums, and the hope is expressed that the movement will be continued until the city is entirely free from the objectionable element.

May Enter the Combine.

London, April 30.—(Special.)—It is reported here that the American line intends effecting a working arrangement with the shipping combination and may even enter it.

IN NO DANGER OF OVERDOING

What a Trades Journal Says of the Outlook For the Pottery Industry.

AMERICA IMPORTS MUCH

That Could as Well Be Made at Home. More Potteries Producing High Grade Ware Are Needed—New Establishments of This Class.

An article from the Crockery & Glass Journal deploring the boom in pottery building was reproduced in these columns a few weeks ago, says a writer in the Commoner and Glassworker. We think it strange that such an authority should take such a short-sighted view and we are afraid that if it continues along that line it will fully corroborate the accusation so often made against it by domestic manufacturers, of the partiality to importers who fill its advertising columns.

It should know that up to a few years ago we were only making one-half what we consumed in earthenware, about $8,000,000 worth out of a total of $16,000,000, and that even now, with our increased capacity, we are making about $13,000,000 of the nearly $18,000,000 worth consumed annually. Besides this we have not gotten into the making of the finer grades of china which the new potteries will force much quicker than would otherwise be the case. Our bodies have been improving each year, but still we do not begin to compete with France; and even England, which we are outclassing in other lines, is still ahead of us in porcelain manufacture.

The indications are that we are really in our infancy in the product of high grade earthenware.

How often was the same comment made 15 or 20 years ago about the glass trade and still they kept on building factories until of recent years they have been building them by the dozen, and who will say even now that we are at the end of our string in glass factory building? It is true that we have had our seasons of depression, but this is no more true of the glass, nor will it be of the pottery trade ,than of any other business with its ups and downs.

What we want is more potteries producing high grade ware and bringing it within the reach of the more general public, instead of depending upon the foreign product at excessive prices. Of course, we must admit that for material and finish the foreign goods get the best of it, and they are generally thus far entitled to it; but we have the brains and skill here just as they have and all we need is the new modern competing potteries to take the lead, or force some of the old concerns to put their best efforts forward, and then we may not only hope to compete but even excel the foreign production. This much desired condition can be brought much quicker by the building of new potteries, all of which we welcome. The more the merrier and the greater the hope of the pottery industry of America.

SAGGERMAKERS' UNION.

An Important Organigation Which Is Flourishing.

Saggermakers' local union No. 16 held a well attended meeting last evening and one new member was taken into full membership. This organization is one of the best in the city. It now controls every sagger shop in the city with one exception, and the prospects for unionizing that are very good.

Every saggermaker in the city is a member of the organization save those employed in the shop mentioned. The union is in a flourishing condition.

Meeting of Union 4.

Local union No. 4 held its regular weekly meeting last night and transacted important business. Four new members were initiated.

THE CONFERENCE MAY END THIS EVENING.

Since the conference committee began their work at 1 o'clock yesterday they have evidenced a disposition to dispose of the questions confronting them in the shortest time possible.

The meeting was called to order at 1 o'clock yesterday, and the members lost no time in getting down to business. The session adjourned at 5:30 last evening, it having been decided to not hold a night session.

It had been announced that the members would assemble at 9 o'clock this morning, but it was almost 10 o'clock before they got together.

This morning's session was held in Brotherhood hall, owing to an interruption in close proximity to the rooms of the Potters' club. Considerable progress was made at this session, and it is possible that the work may be finished this afternoon. This is, of course, a matter no one could tell, as something may come up at any moment which would prolong the conference indefinitely.

The good feeling that at first characterized the negotiations, still continues and gives promise of continuing.

REVIVALIST AND THIEF

WEST VIRGINIAN WHO LED A DOUBLE LIFE.

Now in the Penitentiary to Serve Ten Years for Horse-Stealing.

Moundsville, W. Va., April 30.—The sheriff of Mineral county arrived here yesterday with Rev. J. H. Graham, sentenced to serve ten years for horse-stealing. He had been here before on the same charge under the name of James Ratliff, and that's why he got such a heavy dose. Graham is a powerful man, with one arm, long gray hair, wears a Prince Albert of broadcloth, a broad hat and has a voice of thunder. He has used all these insignia of the cloth to further his thieving plans. His last theft, that sent him to prison, was in Mineral county.

While in jail at Keyser he sold information to owners of six horses that led to their recovery. He pleaded guilty, admitted a former conviction and made a plea for mercy. He admits a mania for stealing horses, but says his true life is that of an exhorter. He is said to have been remarkably successful as a revivalist preacher.

ANOTHER ONE GIVES UP.

Gen. Tinco the Latest Filipino Leader to Quit, Following the Example of Other Insurgents.

Manila, April 30.—(Special.)—General Tinco, one of the few remaining insurgent leaders ,has now surrendered to the Americans.

SENATOR HANNA ILL.

REPORTED SUFFERING FROM ATTACK OF HEART FAILURE.

Fell Unconscious in His Office Saturday And Is Now Keeping Quiet.

Cleveland, April 30.—The Washington correspondent of the Leader says: Senator Hanna had another serious attack of heart failure Saturday. Although efforts were made to keep it quiet, it was learned today that while writing a letter he fell unconscious to the floor of his office in his house. His secretary, Mr. Dover, called for assistance, and the senator was carried to his room.

His physician ordered him to remain in bed, but the senator rested quietly during the afternoon, and felt so much better that he occupied a box at the theater during the evening.

He is a personad friend of H. C. Barnabee, of the Bostonians, and it was this fact that induced him to make the effort to hear the opera.

A COMING WEDDING.

Miss Dorothy E. Kelly And W. H. Vodrey to Marry.

Invitations issued by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kelly announce the coming marriage of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Emma Kelly and Attorney Wm. H. Vodrey. The ceremony will take place at the home of the bride, Lincoln avenue and Calcutta road, on Tuesday evening, May 16, at 6 p. m. Rev. C. G. Gordon will officiate.

YOUNGSTOWN-CLEVELAND.

A Trolley Line to Connect the Two Cities And Intermediate Towns.

Warren, O., April 30.—J. A. Blackburn and George W. Taylor, of Leavittsburg, called here and went before the county commissioners and asked for a franchise for an electric line through Trumbull to the Portage county line, the line in this county to reach from this city to Portage. The gentlemen also made application for a franchise in Portage, the object being to join the two lines that are controlled by the Cleveland and Chagrin Consolidated company and have a continuous line from Youngstown to Cleveland.

It is said here that it is likely that the request will be granted and that the work will be begun within 30 days on both ends of the road. It is a popular move all right enough, but of course the commissioners don't believe in giving away the earth to a corporation.

Stopped the Parade.

While the band was parading it was met by a man in a buggy on Sixth street. The individual refused to move out of the way and the parade was stopped. Several parties undertook to argue the point, but he was obstinate and held his position. The band was compelled to change the route. There was considerable excitement and several hundred people congregated.

EAST END.

HUNTED A WEASEL.

Two Hundred Men And Dogs Amuse Themselves Running Down a Little Animal.

The boys at the Klondike plant had quite an unusual diversion at the noon hour yesterday. An old farmer offered a weasel for sale. The boys purchased it, and at noon, after securing several dogs, let it loose in the center of a large field near the pottery. The 200 or more employes all gathered in a circle to watch the fun.

The weasel entertained them for about 40 minutes with some lightning moves that made the dogs seem very clumsy. Finally, after the little animal—the only one in the game who did not enjoy it—was wearied out one of the dogs caught it and the cruel sport came to an end.

Laying a New Main.

The razing of the small mound near the railroad—not the Thompson mound on the Supplee tract—was begun today. The four-inch main of the Ohio Valley Gas company runs through this mound and it will be necessary for the company to relay it. It is stated by a man connected with the company that this old main, which runs to the Klondike pottery, would be replaced by a new six-inch main. This will make it necessary to lay about a mile of new pipe.

Will Erect Two Houses.

John Grant and Archie Searight have purchased two lots adjoining each other on Pennsylvania avenue from Dr. W. N. Bailey. They will begin the erection of at once of two 10-roomed residences, which will be equipped with all modern conveniences, and which they expect to have completed by August 1.

His Brother Reported Dying.

George Hutchinson received a telegram message from New Cumberland this morning, stating that his brother, David Hutchinson, who has been ill with pleuro-pneumonia for several weeks, was expected to live but a few hours. Mr. Hutchinson left for New Cumberland at once.

Two East End Births.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Steele, Pennsylvania avenue, a daughter. To Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Davis, of St. George street, a son. The doctor wore an unusually happy smile this morning.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Thompson Andrews is having his house on Pennsylvania avenue painted.

Thomas Hendershot is very ill with the grip at his home on Mulberry street.

The track at Columbian park is being put in order. The first driving over the track this year was done today.

Robert Shaw has purchased a four-roomed house on St. George street from Fred Riley. Consideration private.

Next Saturday afternoon the Dixsonville team will play the Junior Grays, of the East End, at Dixsonville.

There were three more conversions at the Second U. P. church last night as a result of the meetings now being held by Rev. A. H. Kaylor.

Lee Boulton, George Burman, Archie McCormick, Harm Smeltzenbach and George Nelson attended the league game at Pittsburg yesterday.

George Koutz, of Marion county, Indiana, has returned to the East End, where he will be employed in the sewer pipe works. He worked there last summer.

William Spearhas will leave tomorrow morning for Lawrence county, Pa., where he will spend two weeks visiting relatives. Mr. Spearhas has just recovered from a protracted illness with typhoid fever.

NOTES FROM THE NORTHSIDE.

Howard Kauffman is confined to his home on Avondale street with an attack of typhoid fever.

Mrs. John Wucher is confined to her home on Sophia street with an attack of typhoid fever.

S. W. Brothers yesterday moved his family from the Hinton property on Avondale street to his new residence in the West End, which was recently completed.

The residents of Bradshaw avenue and Avondale street would like very well to see the street force appear for the purpose of cleaning those thoroughfares, as they are very dirty.

TOM L. JOHNSON, CLEVELAND'S NEW MAYOR.

The recent election of Tom L. Johnson as mayor of Cleveland is regarded by his friends merely as a preliminary step to his entrance into national politics. The millionaire reformer is said to have his weather eye fixed on the senate chamber, with the White House as an ultimate stopping place.

Salem, April 30.—Charles Tolerton, the 18-year-old son of H .A. Tolerton, a youth who has won much local fame as a swimmer and is as much at home in the water as a fish, proposes further to extend his reputation by swimming across Conneaut lake this summer.

Mr. Tolerton has been inspired to attempt this feat by reading about a 15-year-old girl who swam across the like in its widest part. She is the only person who ever accomplished the feat. Tolerton would like some one else to try the feat with him, and challenges anybody in this city to swim against him. The lake is from one and a half to two miles wide.

DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION

"I had been a sufferer for many years from nervousness with all its symptoms and complications," writes Mrs. O. N. Fisher, 1861 Lexington Ave., New York, N. Y. "I was constantly going to see a physician or purchasing medicine. In the spring of 1897 my husband induced me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. After taking one bottle and following your advice I was so encouraged that I took five more bottles, and then stopped for several weeks as I felt so much better, but still I was not completely cured. I commenced taking it again and felt that I was improving faster than at first. I am not now cross and irritable, and I have a good color in my face; have also gained about ten pounds in weight and one thousand pounds of comfort, for I am a new woman once more and your advice and your 'Favorite Prescription' is the cause of it, coupled with the 'Pleasant Pellets' which are not to be dispensed with. I took eight bottles of the 'Prescription' the last time, making fourteen in all, and will not take any more unless you so advise, for I do not see as I need it."

HUNTED A WEASEL.

Two Hundred Men And Dogs Amuse Themselves Running Down a Little Animal.

The boys at the Klondike plant had quite an unusual diversion at the noon hour yesterday. An old farmer offered a weasel for sale. The boys purchased it, and at noon, after securing several dogs, let it loose in the center of a large field near the pottery. The 200 or more employes all gathered in a circle to watch the fun.

The weasel entertained them for about 40 minutes with some lightning moves that made the dogs seem very clumsy. Finally, after the little animal—the only one in the game who did not enjoy it—was wearied out one of the dogs caught it and the cruel sport came to an end.

Laying a New Main.

The razing of the small mound near the railroad—not the Thompson mound on the Supplee tract—was begun today. The four-inch main of the Ohio Valley Gas company runs through this mound and it will be necessary for the company to relay it. It is stated by a man connected with the company that this old main, which runs to the Klondike pottery, would be replaced by a new six-inch main. This will make it necessary to lay about a mile of new pipe.

CRIME OF CAPT. REED

Consisted In His Effort to Shield Major George B. Davis.

SOLICITED MONEY TO DO SO

Also Had Lieut. Townley, of the Navy, Ask For Money From Frms to Cover Up Davis' Shortage—Commissary Scandal Trial at Manila.

Manila, April 30.—The trial of Captain James C. Reed, former depot commissary at Manila, and who was arested about a fortnight ago for alleged participation in the commissary frauds, was begun here and bids fair to develop into a celebrated case. Captain Reed is charged with soliciting and receiving bribes and with other official misconduct.

Objections to Jurisdiction Overruled.

At the beginning of the trial counsel for the defendant objected to the jurisdiction of the court, alleging that under an act promulgated in 1901 officers of the regular establishment are ineligible as members of a court martial to try an officer of volunteers. The defense further denied that a state of war existed in Manila today and alleged that the provost marshal, General George W. Davis, is unauthorized to convene a general court martial, and intimating that as General MacArthur virtually preferred the charges against Captain Reed, the orders directing his trial by court martial should come from Washington. The defense further objected to the fact that several members of the court were of inferior rank to Captain Reed. All these objections were overruled and the hearing of testimony was begun.

Mr. Shindler, manager of the Alhambria cigar factory, testified that in November Captain Reed had told him that Major George B. Davis, who was the depot commissary before Captain Reed, but who was sent to the United States on sick leave, and whose name appeared on the books of Evans & Co., government contractors at Manila, as the recipient of $1,000, was $2,000 short in his accounts. Continuing, Mr. Schindler testified that those having profitable contracts with the government were asked to assist in making good Major Davis' deficiency. Schindler gave Captain Reed $1,050, which was 2½ per cent commission on the cigars sold to the commissary department during the time that Major Davis was depot commissary at Manila.

An officer named Franklin, who was assistant commissary, testified to the effect that on March 18, and following the direction of a superior officer, he obtained $1,000 from Major Davis and paid this money over to Schindler.

Claimed Trying to Protect Davis.

Inspector General Garlington testified that during the preliminary investigation of the commissary scandals Captain Reed admitted to him recovering money from Schindler and others, and gave as an excuse that the money so recovered was intended to cover Major Davis' beef shortage.

Lieutenant Richard H. Townley, of the navy, at present superintendent of the Manila nautical school, testified that as the result of a conference with Captain Reed he went to see Castle Brothers, contractors, who supply the commissary department with vegetables, etc., and wanted them to give Captain Reed $2,000 and 10 per cent commission on all sales. Castle Brothers demurred to this proposition. Lieutenant Townley again went to Castle Brothers and this time only asked them for $2,000. Castle Brothers were reluctant to hand over this sum, and Lieutenant Townley explained that Captain Reed was in a position to advance the interests of the firm and that it would be advantageous to Castle Brothers to oblige him. Lieutenant Townley testified that he further explained to Castle Brothers that Captain Reed might allow them the use of government lighters, and possibly be less rigid in the inspection of goods purchased. Lieutenant Townley said that he thought Captain Reed was doing a noble thing in attempting to protect the character of a brother officer. He also said that such transactions wer not customary in the navy. When cross-questioned Lieutenant Townley said, rather sheepishly, that he was not so sure he was doing right in taking the witness chair.

Gave Same Reason to Woodruff.

Colonel Charles A. Woodruff, chief of the subsistence department in Manila, explained the circumstances of Captain Reed's appointment, and described the duties of the depot commissary, not knowing whether the accounts of Major Davis were correct or not. Colonel Woodruff explained that on Dec. 30 Castle Brothers aroused his suspicions by intimating that money was being collected by an officer of the commissary department. Later Colonel Woodruff sent for Captain Reed, who admitted receiving rebates for the purpose of covering the delinquencies of Major Davis. The testimony of Colonel Woodruff was unfinished at Monday's session and other witnesses were awaiting examination.

Lieutenant John W. Haussermann, of the Thirty-fourth infantry, is judge advocate of the court, and Major Thomas L. Hartigan, of the Thirtieth infantry, and Captain Charles H. Marple, of the Fortieth infantry, are teh attorneys for the defendants.

MRS. VAUGHN DIVORCED.

Wife of Baseball Player Free—He Claims to Be Bankrupt.

Cincinnati, April 30.—Mrs. Gertrude Vaughn was granted a divorce from Harry Vaughn, formerly a well-known baseball player. Sensational charges were made on both sides and the case was stubbornly contested. Mrs. Vaughn's character was vindicated, she was given the custody of her child and alimony, the amount to be determined later.

Vaughn declares he is a bankrupt, having spent much money on the divorce suit.

FOR ADJOURNMENT.

Pennsylvania House Votes For Committee to Propose May 23—Death of Calder Announced.

Harrisburg, April 30.—The order of business in the senate last night was the reading of bills the first time. There were 30 bills on the first reading calendar, and after they had all been passed the senate adjourned until this morning, about 10 o'clock being the time selected to meet.

Callahan Was Still In Jail.

Omaha, April 30.—James Callahan, tried and acquitted of the charge of complicity in the kidnaping of Eddie Cudahy, was still in jail, but his attorneys were preparing a showing which they believe will secure his freedom. They set forth that Callahan's liberty has already been put in jeopardy and that he was re-arrested on the same testimony and virtually the same charge as that upon which he had been tried and acquitted.

Why It Is Called Dutch Gap.

When Ben Butler was endeavoring to get the Union gunboats up the James, he found the water in the bend at Dutch Gap too shallow to let them pass, to say nothing of the fact that the Confederates had erected two or three batteries along the bend in order to give him a warm reception. So he went ahead and cut a canal across the neck and suddenly, instead of being 13 miles from Richmond, he was only six. Ever since that time the canal has been used, and the government now considers it the channel of the river and keeps it in shape. The plantations along the land were thus suddenly drained of their very lifeblood and have naturally fallen into decay.

The place is called Dutch Gap because at this spot, in early colonial days, a Dutchman worked a very smooth game upon the unsuspecting Indian. The Dutchman wagered the Indian that he could beat him paddling a canoe around the bend. The Indian took him up on the instant and gave him a mile the start. They started just above the bend, the Indian a mile behind, and when the Dutchman reached the neck he jumped on shore, grabbed his canoe out of the water, ran across to the other side with it, dropped it into the water again and calmly awaited the arrival of the astonished Indian, who had paddled frantically around the bend in the endeavor to catch up with him. What the wager was is not recorded, but the Dutchman doubtless got possession of 200,000 or 300,000 acres of land as a result of the trick.—Cor. Chicago Record.

Mr. Wm. Anderson, of 315 Lisbon street, says: "During the civil war I enlisted and served three years in the Forty-second Ohio infantry. From the exposure during the war I attribute the severe aching and weakness in the loins and muscular rheumatism of recent years which all seemed to center in my kidneys. In the morning when first getting up I was very dizzy until I had moved around for a time and my nervous system became affected causing a fluttering and fullness around the heart. Seeing an advertisement in the paper I got Doan's Kidney Pills at W. & W. pharmacy and took them. A few doses gave me relief. The improvement was gradual and continued as the medicine got more thoroughly into my system. CRIME OF CAPT. REED

Consisted In His Effort to Shield Major George B. Davis.

SOLICITED MONEY TO DO SO

Also Had Lieut. Townley, of the Navy, Ask For Money From Frms to Cover Up Davis' Shortage—Commissary Scandal Trial at Manila.

Manila, April 30.—The trial of Captain James C. Reed, former depot commissary at Manila, and who was arested about a fortnight ago for alleged participation in the commissary frauds, was begun here and bids fair to develop into a celebrated case. Captain Reed is charged with soliciting and receiving bribes and with other official misconduct.

Objections to Jurisdiction Overruled.

At the beginning of the trial counsel for the defendant objected to the jurisdiction of the court, alleging that under an act promulgated in 1901 officers of the regular establishment are ineligible as members of a court martial to try an officer of volunteers. The defense further denied that a state of war existed in Manila today and alleged that the provost marshal, General George W. Davis, is unauthorized to convene a general court martial, and intimating that as General MacArthur virtually preferred the charges against Captain Reed, the orders directing his trial by court martial should come from Washington. The defense further objected to the fact that several members of the court were of inferior rank to Captain Reed. All these objections were overruled and the hearing of testimony was begun.

Mr. Shindler, manager of the Alhambria cigar factory, testified that in November Captain Reed had told him that Major George B. Davis, who was the depot commissary before Captain Reed, but who was sent to the United States on sick leave, and whose name appeared on the books of Evans & Co., government contractors at Manila, as the recipient of $1,000, was $2,000 short in his accounts. Continuing, Mr. Schindler testified that those having profitable contracts with the government were asked to assist in making good Major Davis' deficiency. Schindler gave Captain Reed $1,050, which was 2½ per cent commission on the cigars sold to the commissary department during the time that Major Davis was depot commissary at Manila.

An officer named Franklin, who was assistant commissary, testified to the effect that on March 18; and following the direction of a superior officer, he obtained $1,000 from Major Davis and paid this money over to Schindler.

Claimed Trying to Protect Davis.

Inspector General Garlington testified that during the preliminary investigation of the commissary scandals Captain Reed admitted to him recovering money from Schindler and others, and gave as an excuse that the money so recovered was intended to cover Major Davis' beef shortage.

Lieutenant Richard H. Townley, of the navy, at present superintendent of the Manila nautical school, testified that as the result of a conference with Captain Reed he went to see Castle Brothers, contractors, who supply the commissary department with vegetables, etc., and wanted them to give Captain Reed $2,000 and 10 per cent commission on all sales. Castle Brothers demurred to this proposition. Lieutenant Townley again went to Castle Brothers and this time only asked them for $2,000. Castle Brothers were reluctant to hand over this sum, and Lieutenant Townley explained that Captain Reed was in a position to advance the interests of the firm and that it would be advantageous to Castle Brothers to oblige him. Lieutenant Townley testified that he further explained to Castle Brothers that Captain Reed might allow them the use of government lighters, and possibly be less rigid in the inspection of goods purchased. Lieutenant Townley said that he thought Captain Reed was doing a noble thing in attempting to protect the character of a brother officer. He also said that such transactions wer not customary in the navy. When cross-questioned Lieutenant Townley said, rather sheepishly, that he was not so sure he was doing right in taking the witness chair.

Gave Same Reason to Woodruff.

Colonel Charles A. Woodruff, chief of the subsistence department in Manila, explained the circumstances of Captain Reed's appointment, and described the duties of the depot commissary, not knowing whether the accounts of Major Davis were correct or not. Colonel Woodruff explained that on Dec. 30 Castle Brothers aroused his suspicions by intimating that money was being collected by an officer of the commissary department. Later Colonel Woodruff sent for Captain Reed, who admitted receiving rebates for the purpose of covering the delinquencies of Major Davis. The testimony of Colonel Woodruff was unfinished at Monday's session and other witnesses were awaiting examination.

Lieutenant John W. Haussermann, of the Thirty-fourth infantry, is judge advocate of the court, and Major Thomas L. Hartigan, of the Thirteth infantry, and Captain Charles H. Marple, of the Fortieth infantry, are teh attorneys for the defendants.

MRS. VAUGHN DIVORCED.

Wife of Baseball Player Free—He Claims to Be Bankrupt.

Cincinnati, April 30.—Mrs. Gertrude Vaughn was granted a divorce from Harry Vaughn, formerly a well-known baseball player. Sensational charges were made on both sides and the case was stubbornly contested. Mrs. Vaughn's character was vindicated, she was given the custody of her child and alimony, the amount to be determined later.

Vaughn declares he is a bankrupt, having spent much money on the divorce suit.

FOR ADJOURNMENT.

Pennsylvania House Votes For Committee to Propose May 23—Death of Calder Announced.

Harrisburg, April 30.—The order of business in the senate last night was the reading of bills the first time. There were 30 bills on the first reading calendar, and after they had all been passed the senate adjourned until this morning, about 10 o'clock being the time selected to meet.

A bill was introduced in the house last night by Mr. McClain, of Lancaster, to provide for the submission to the qualified electors at the next general election of the question of changing the location of the capital from Harrisburg to Lancaster.

Mr. Henderson, of Allegheny, introduced a bill to enable homeless or landless persons to purchase or appropriate at the assessed value any building lot, house and lot or farm not exceeding 200 acres, not personally occupied by the owner, empowering the courts to enforce the same after tender of the amount of such assessed value.

A resolution was offered by Mr. Harris, of Clearfield, that the Snyder oleomargarine bill be taken up on a special order for final passage at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The resolution carried by a vote of 98 to 36.

A resolution was offered by Mr. Myers, of Cumberland, and adopted, that a committee of three be appointed by the speaker for the purpose of meeting a similar committee to be appointed by the senate looking to the date of final adjournment on May 23. There were also other proceedings.

After clearing the calendar of first reading bills the death of Mr. Calder, of Dauphin, was formally announced by his colleague, Mr. Ulrich. Speaker Marshall appointed Messrs. Ulrich, Smythe, of Philadelphia; Hall, of Allegheny; Lack, Chester; McClain, Lancaster; Mertens, Erie; Koontz, Somerset; Ikeler, Columbia, and Mayne, Lehigh, a committee to arrange for memorial services in the hall of the house on the evening of May 8.

On motion of Mr. Seal, of Dauphin, the following committee was appointed to attend the funeral, after which the house adjourned out of respect to the deceased: Messrs. Ulrich, Seal, Rutherford, Dauphin, Chew and Fulmer, Philadelphia; Edwards, Bucks; Pomeroy, Franklin; Miller (W. SIGHTS FOR THE PRESIDENT.

The president has started on a journey of 10,000 miles—across the continent and back again, with detours here and there to points of interest. In all this long tour he will look everywhere upon a prosperous, contented people. The busy hum of industry will greet his ears at every stopping place. From the car windows he will see hundreds of manufactories in full blast and scores of new ones building. Thriving towns will be pointed out to him where, but a few years ago, only farmhouses or feeble hamlets stood. Each state that he enters, each city through which he passes, each agricultural community, even, along the route, will have its story of progress and prosperity to relate and will be found amply able to demonstrate by irrefutable evidence that the tale is no idle one.

Such sights as will meet the president's gaze, such evidences of progress and prosperity as now abound were non-existent in 1896 when William J. Bryan was prophesying industrial revolution and all manner of evil to come, and proposing a half-value silver dollar and his own wisdom as the only possible preventative, the only effectual cure. The revolution has come, but it has been a peaceful one. Money is plentiful, and it is not cheap money, either. McKinley and prosperity came into power together, and their sphere of influence has been expanding ever since. Gratifying indeed are the evidences of peace and plenty that abound. President and people cannot fail to contemplate them with satisfaction, and Republicans, who see a complete realization of their predictions, and the good fruitage of promises kept and of wise policies pursued have especial reasons for pride and thankfulness.

BRIGANDS FROM ITALY.

According to the statement of a leading newspaper of New York, America is being made the dumping ground for Italian criminals and paupers. It states that this fact has been forcibly called to the attention of the local authorities by the arrival of three noted brigands whose depredations made them a terror to the Italian province where they lived. Despairing of getting rid of them in any other way, the merchants upon whom they had preyed made up a liberal purse, with which the three were sent to America, arriving here with money enough in their pockets to enable them to land unquestioned. The three outlaws, who found no obstacle in the way of landing, are now said to be in Kansas City, where they are supposed to be maturing plans for a career of crime in the west.

The New York immigration commissioner says this is no isolated case, and we can readily believe him. Every populous community is supporting in jails, workhouses or almshouses men the expense of whose maintenance ought to fall upon some European government. We have all the paupers and criminals we need without importing any. Almost annually congress is asked and urged to pass more stringent immigration laws; and quite as reguarly it fails to do so. Nobody in this country is opposed to honest, industrious foreigners; we were all aliens not many generations back, and we should not lose light of the fact. But it is a fact which the criminal statistics of our country strongly emphasize that too many ignorant and vicious immigrants are allowed to enter our gates, not alone from Italy, but from other quarters of the globe. The bars should have been put up against all such long ago. We not only need more immigration laws, but a better enforcement of what we have.

AMERICAN FILIPINOS.

The Philippine islands cannot be so bad as they have been represented, either as regards climatic or other conditions. One of the regiments which recently returned to this country left two hundred of its members behind. They remained, not from necessity, but from choice, intending to engage in business. The average American soldier is wide-awake, enterprising and intelligent. A colony composed of such men will be an excellent thing for the islands. From all indications such colonies will soon become numerous. That means the spead of American ideas—a valuable possession in any country. The Filipinos, as all accounts agree, are quick to learn and eager to adopt the ways of the white man. Every good American who locates there is an agent for the advancement of civilization and progress. The fact that so many Americans see such possibilities in the islands as to induce them to become either temporary or permament residents there is an excellent augury of the speedy betterment of the conditions of the country and its people.

A Kansas dispatch soberly asserts that Carrie Nation is now believed to be insane. This may be deeply-veiled humor or it may be an evidence of slow ratiocination on the part of Grasshopper state people; anyway, it's not news in this part of the country.

It may be wise for Harvard to drop the practice of conferring degrees promiscuously, but it is very puerile and senseless to stop it just before reaching President McKinley's name. McKinley, as a Harvard LL. D., will be of more credit to the institution than hundreds of Harvard's own sons.

Senator McLaurin insists that the Democratic party as now conducted is an exponent of socialism and not Democratic at all. Other people have suspected as much, and the testimony of a prominent Democrat ought to be almost proof positive.

The South African war is only one of the causes which is forcing England to abandon free trade. The competition of America and Germany in the world's markets has been an equally potent influence.

Western farmers view the rise of the corn market with smiles of satisfaction. A few cents added to the bushel means for them the cancellation of mortgages and the purchase of pianos and top buggies.

SIGHTS FOR THE PRESIDENT.

The president has started on a journey of 10,000 miles—across the continent and back again, with detours here and there to points of interest. In all this long tour he will look everywhere upon a prosperous, contented people. The busy hum of industry will greet his ears at every stopping place. From the car windows he will see hundreds of manufactories in full blast and scores of new ones building. Thriving towns will be pointed out to him where, but a few years ago, only farmhouses or feeble hamlets stood. Each state that he enters, each city through which he passes, each agricultural community, even, along the route, will have its story of progress and prosperity to relate and will be found amply able to demonstrate by irrefutable evidence that the tale is no idle one.

Such sights as will meet the president's gaze, such evidences of progress and prosperity as now abound were non-existent in 1896 when William J. Bryan was prophesying industrial revolution and all manner of evil to come, and proposing a half-value silver dollar and his own wisdom as the only possible preventative, the only effectual cure. The revolution has come, but it has been a peaceful one. Money is plentiful, and it is not cheap money, either. McKinley and prosperity came into power together, and their sphere of influence has been expanding ever since. Gratifying indeed are the evidences of peace and plenty that abound. President and people cannot fail to contemplate them with satisfaction, and Republicans, who see a complete realization of their predictions, and the good fruitage of promises kept and of wise policies pursued have especial reasons for pride and thankfulness.

BRIGANDS FROM ITALY.

According to the statement of a leading newspaper of New York, America is being made the dumping ground for Italian criminals and paupers. It states that this fact has been forcibly called to the attention of the local authorities by the arrival of three noted brigands whose depredations made them a terror to the Italian province where they lived. Despairing of getting rid of them in any other way, the merchants upon whom they had preyed made up a liberal purse, with which the three were sent to America, arriving here with money enough in their pockets to enable them to land unquestioned. The three outlaws, who found no obstacle in the way of landing, are now said to be in Kansas City, where they are supposed to be maturing plans for a career of crime in the west.

The New York immigration commissioner says this is no isolated case, and we can readily believe him. Every populous community is supporting in jails, workhouses or almshouses men the expense of whose maintenance ought to fall upon some European government. We have all the paupers and criminals we need without importing any. Almost annually congress is asked and urged to pass more stringent immigration laws; and quite as reguarly it fails to do so. Nobody in this country is opposed to honest, industrious foreigners; we were all aliens not many generations back, and we should not lose light of the fact. But it is a fact which the criminal statistics of our country strongly emphasize that too many ignorant and vicious immigrants are allowed to enter our gates, not alone from Italy, but from other quarters of the globe. The bars should have been put up against all such long ago. We not only need more immigration laws, but a better enforcement of what we have.

AMERICAN FILIPINOS.

The Philippine islands cannot be so bad as they have been represented, either as regards climatic or other conditions. One of the regiments which recently returned to this country left two hundred of its members behind. They remained, not from necessity, but from choice, intending to engage in business. The average American soldier is wide-awake, enterprising and intelligent. A colony composed of such men will be an excellent thing for the islands. From all indications such colonies will soon become numerous. That means the spead of American ideas—a valuable possession in any country. The Filipinos, as all accounts agree, are quick to learn and eager to adopt the ways of the white man. Every good American who locates there is an agent for the advancement of civilization and progress. The fact that so many Americans see such possibilities in the islands as to induce them to become either temporary or permament residents there is an excellent augury of the speedy betterment of the conditions of the country and its people.

A Kansas dispatch soberly asserts that Carrie Nation is now believed to be insane. This may be deeply-veiled humor or it may be an evidence of slow ratiocination on the part of Grasshopper state people; anyway, it's not news in this part of the country.

It may be wise for Harvard to drop the practice of conferring degrees promiscuously, but it is very puerile and senseless to stop it just before reaching President McKinley's name. McKinley, as a Harvard LL. D., will be of more credit to the institution than hundreds of Harvard's own sons.

Senator McLaurin insists that the Democratic party as now conducted is an exponent of socialism and not Democratic at all. Other people have suspected as much, and the testimony of a prominent Democrat ought to be almost proof positive.

The South African war is only one of the causes which is forcing England to abandon free trade. The competition of America and Germany in the world's markets has been an equally potent influence.

Western farmers view the rise of the corn market with smiles of satisfaction. A few cents added to the bushel means for them the cancellation of mortgages and the purchase of pianos and top buggies.

J. Pierpont Morgan has now invested a few millions in steamship lines. Apparently he not only wants the earth, but a share of the sea as well.

NEARLY CAUGHT BY TRAIN

A CHESTER BOY'S NARROW ESCAPE ON A TRESTLE.

Only the Timely Shout of a Man Who Saw His Peril Saved Him.

Otis Jackson, aged 11 years, narrowly escaped being caught by a train on the trestle just below First street, Chester, this morning. The lad was about half way over the trestle and had not noticed the passenger train which was coming toward him and was only a very short distance from the opposite end of the trestle. The boy wore a cap which projected over his eyes and was watching closely where he stepped.

There is a very short curve in the track just below this point and the train is only in view a few minutes before it reaches the trestle. The engineer had evidently not noticed the boy as no alarm was sounded.

Enoch Riley, who happened to be passing, exercised his lungs in a most vigorous manner and the Jackson boy turned and ran rapidly back toward the other end of the trestle. Mr. Riley saw that the train was going to catch him, and shouted to him to jump, which he did. He was near the end of the trestle and it was only a few feet to the ground. He escaped with a bad scare and a good shaking up.

Goes to a Wedding.

Thomas Bambrick left this afternoon for New Cumberland, where he will attend the wedding of Mr. S. S. Sanford and Miss Olive Brandon, which will take place at the bride's home at 8 o'clock this evening. Rev. Wells, of the Christian church, will perform the ceremony. The contracting parties both reside in New Cumberland and are well and favorably known throughout the county.

Breaks the Record.

Business in Justice Johnson's court is very dull. The 'squire states that not even a busybody has offered to tell a tale of woe during the past two days. That breaks the record, he says.

Well Nearly Completed.

The well on the W. P. Evans farm, a few miles back of Chester, which is being drilled by the Mutzig Oil company of Pittsburg, is expected in soon.

NEWS OF THE POTTERIES.

An improvement is reported in the sanitary trade in Trenton.

The recently started Zanesville art pottery is said to be turning out some fine ware.

The Eureka Flint & Spar company, of Trenton, have recently received big orders for several carload lots of their superior flint and spar for East Liverpool.

A sanitary pottery with $25,000 capital stock desires to locate in Warren, O., and has made overtures to the citizens there to put up a plant. If the offer is accepted the company will double its capitalization.

Work is being rapidly pushed on the buildings being erected by the New Castle (Pa.) Pottery company. The largest building is up one story and work has been started on all the other buildings and is being pushed.

Joseph Martin, employed at the Equitable pottery, Trenton, has got a verdict for $4,500 damages against a railroad company. While on his way to work he was struck in the eye by a piece of brake shoe from a passing train. The case will be appealed.

The East Liverpool Pottery company lost its case at Lancaster, O., last week against the A. Bauman company. A consignment of ware sent the defendant was received with many pieces broken and the cost of the broken pieces amounting to $13 was refused payment, hence the suit.

POLITICAL MATTERS.

Hon. S. R. Peters, of Newton, Kan., who is touted as the successor of Pension Commissioner Evans, is an old Pickaway county boy, born in 1842. He is a graduate of Delaware university, and served through the war as a member of the Seventy-third regiment, O. V. I., coming out of the service as captain. He went to Kansas following the war. He was a member of the state senate, judge of the Ninth judicial district and was three times elected to the difficult position without opposition. In 1883 he was elected at large to the Forty-eighth congress. In 1890 he declined further congressional honors, preferring to practice his profession. Judge Peters is now postmaster at Newton and editor of the Kansas Republican.

Mayor Andrew Werley, of New Riegel, is serving his sixth term as chief magistrate of that village. He was the first postmaster and the first mayor the village ever had and served in the latter position for three successive terms and then declined further honors. After an interval the people clamored for him to accept the office again, and after much persuasion he did so. New Riegel, for some years, had only one Republican voter.

The coming campaign will have more than the usual interest on account of the election of a legislature charged with the responsibility of naming the successor to Senator Foraker, and the further fact that two of the Democratic millionaires of the state, John R. McLean and Tom L. Johnson, are likely to be aspirants for the Democratic caucus nomination, in case of the election of a Democratic majority on joint ballot.

Governor Nash has suspended the operation of a law requiring assessors, this year, to obtain a list of all persons within their jurisdiction available for military service. This is required every five years unless the governor deems it unnecessary, which he does at this time.

James L. Holden, the recently elected Democratic mayor of Zanesville, has announced that he was elected by the liberal people of the town and he will permit gambling.

MINERS' DISSATISFIED.

Talk of a Strike Indulged by the Clay Diggers at Walkers'.

The miners' union at Walkers' gave notice to Matthew Myers, the manager of the claybanks, that unless he complied with demands recently made by them they would go on a strike Wednesday morning. They claim he has failed to comply with the agreement made at the recent strike, in that he has failed to provide a means of hauling the clay out of the bank.

The men asked that a mule be provided, and say he agreed to their request; that he also agreed to pay them one cent extra per ton and that this agreement has not been kept.

The men think a strike will be averted, as they say the company has closed contracts that will keep it busy for more than a year.

Cyclists' Summer Tour.

The West End Cycling club has just completed arrangements for its annual tour. The club will leave here on July 5, and will take in Cleveland, Detroit, Dayton and Cincinnati, returning home by way of the river route. The present plans do not include the Pan-American Exposition, but it is thought that arrangements will be made later to include it in the itinerary.

Union Pacific and Northern Pacific Also Lead Well In Market Monday.

New York, April 30.—If there were any doubts entertained that the speculative advance might be interrupted after the holiday interval they were dispelled within five minutes after the trading opened Monday in the new temporary quarters of the Stock Exchange. The first transactions demonstrated the leading position of the United States Steel stocks, Union Pacific and Northern Pacific in the speculative situation, and that leadership was unaffected during the whole of the day. There was great activity and some striking strength shown by a number of other stocks, but they paled into insignificance in comparison with the furious activity and extraordinary price changes in the leaders. Often during the day there were strips of several feet of ticker tape which recorded successive transactions in one or the other of these stocks, with not a single block of less than a thousand shares in the series, and running up to 8,000 shares. The extreme advance in Union Pacific extended to 12¼ in the late afternoon and in Northern Pacific to 10¾. United States steel stocks did not show such wide fluctuations as is natural from the much greater volume of the company's total capitalization. Nevertheless the common stock achieved an extreme advance of 3¾ and the preferred of 2¾ and held more firmly than almost any other stocks in the list. There were some very striking gains among the grangers, Pacifics and trunk lines, but these seemed to be associated in the minds of the buyers with the movement in Union Pacific. Rock Island was at one time 6¾ over Friday, St. Paul 4⅜, New York Central 5, Pennsylvania 3⅛, Baltimore and Ohio 3, Illinois Central 3½, St. Louis and San Francisco second preferred 3¾ and a number of other related stocks from 2 to 3 points. Colorado Fuel rose 8 points and Amalgamated Copper 3⅛. If these stocks are set apart it will be found that the dealings elsewhere and the movement of prices otherwise were not sensational. But contemplating these special price movements and the volume of dealings in the stocks enumerated one has compared the salient facts of the extraordinary market of the day. There was no specific news to account for the unprecedented dealings which lifted the day's record to 2,760,000 shares. As the vital point of the speculation is the money supply, the increase in surplus reserves shown by Saturday's bank statement was a favorable factor. The large gain in cash was noted with especial satisfaction as reflecting the continued inflow of funds to New York. Much store is placed also in the government interest disbursements to be made on May 1, and large corporation dividend payments are also counted upon for help to the money situation. The reliance placed on these factors was made evident by the small momentary effect of the engagement of $1,750,000 in gold for export and the opinion of exchange exports that probably $5,000,000 might go out during the week. There was some doubt as to the destination of the gold, but that it would go to the continent and not to London seemed evident. The additional engagement of $1,000,000 for London was unknown until after the close.

Beating an Avalanche.

One of the most exciting Alpine adventures on record was Mr. Tuckett's race with an avalanche on the Eiger glacier in 1871. He was ascending the glacier with two friends and a guide. Says Travel:

The glacier sloped somewhat steeply, and on the upper part, above the climbers, a mass of loose, freshly fallen snow had collected. Suddenly the travelers heard a thundering noise and perceived a huge mass of snow and ice sliding down toward them. They could only try to reach the rocks at the side of the glacier, hoping to do so before the avalanche should sweep them away. Through the knee deep snow they ran for their lives.

"I remember," said Mr. Tuckett, "being struck with the idea that it seemed as if the avalanche were sure of its prey and wished to play with us for awhile. At one moment it let us imagine that we had gained on it, and the next, with mere wantonness of vindictive power, it suddenly rolled out a vast volume of grinding blocks and whirling snow, as if to show us that it could outflank us any moment it chose.

"Nearer and nearer it came, its front a mighty wave about to break. It aimed straight at us, swift, deadly, implacable. The next instant we saw no more. A wild confusion of whirling snow and fragments of ice, a frozen cloud, swept over us, entirely concealing us from one another. But still we were untouched, and still we ran.

"Another half second, and the mist parted. There lay the body of the monster, whose head was still careering away at lightning speed far below us, motionless, rigid, harmless."

Washington's High Priced Shad.

Washington's steward was a man named Fraunces, who liked good living and with whom Washington continually quarreled about the marketing. One time he bought a shad in February, and as Washington saw it coming into the dining room he was charmed and asked what fish it was.

"It is a shad," replied the steward; "a very fine shad. It was the only one in the market, and I bought it for you."

"But what did you pay for it?" said Washington sternly.

"It is a very fine shad," continued the steward, "and it is cooked to a turn."

"But I want to know the price—the price!"

"It cost $3," stammered out Fraunces.

"Take it away," said Washington as he raised his hand; "take it away. It shall never be said that I set such an example of luxury and extravagance."

And with that he drove the steward out of the room and the shad was eaten in the servants' kitchen.

NEARLY CAUGHT BY TRAIN

A CHESTER BOY'S NARROW ESCAPE ON A TRESTLE.

Only the Timely Shout of a Man Who Saw His Peril Saved Him.

Otis Jackson, aged 11 years, narrowly escaped being caught by a train on the trestle just below First street, Chester, this morning. The lad was about half way over the trestle and had not noticed the passenger train which was coming toward him and was only a very short distance from the opposite end of the trestle. The boy wore a cap which projected over his eyes and was watching closely where he stepped.

There is a very short curve in the track just below this point and the train is only in view a few minutes before it reaches the trestle. The engineer had evidently not noticed the boy as no alarm was sounded.

Enoch Riley, who happened to be passing, exercised his lungs in a most vigorous manner and the Jackson boy turned and ran rapidly back toward the other end of the trestle. Mr. Riley saw that the train was going to catch him, and shouted to him to jump, which he did. He was near the end of the trestle and it was only a few feet to the ground. He escaped with a bad scare and a good shaking up.

CORDIAL RECEPTIONS

Given to President McKinley at the Outset of His Trip to the West.

MRS. M'KINLEY'S ENJOYMENT

She Was Not Feeling Particularly Well When the Start Was Made, but Was Improved Later On—Enthusiasm In Virginia.

Wytheville, Va., April 30.—The president and his party will keep in close touch with Washington throughout the trip to California. The railroad officials in charge of the train and the various divisions over which it passed took precautions to guard against the possibility of mishaps. The track, switches and bridges were all carefully inspected before the train reached a given station, everything on the road, passenger as well as freight, was sidetracked, and over the Norfolk Western railroad a pilot train ran ahead of the presidential special. Train crews on the sidetracks lined up and uncovered as the chief magistrate went by. Members of the party enjoyed the first day of their trip, and the president expressed his gratification over the receptions he had received. Mrs. McKinley, who was not feeling particularly well when the train started, became better as the day progressed, and last night said she had enjoyed it very much. Today, it was expected, the train will make brief stops at Huntsville, Decatur and Tuscumbia, Ala., and Corinth, Miss.

Memphis, where the party will remain until midnight, it was expected, will be reached about 4:30 p. m.

Enthusiastic at Charloottesville.

Charlottesville, Va., April 30.—The presidential train, with a tiny flag on the pilot of the engine denoting that the chief magistrate of the nation was on board, arrived at Charlottesville on schedule time. The run from Washington was made without incident. A brief stop was made at Alenandria. A big crowd had assembled at the station there and the president and Mrs. McKinley appeared upon the platform to acknowledge salutes. Speeding through Virginia to this town, famous as the seat of the University of Virginia, and the nome of Jefferson, people gathered at every town, village and cross roads to see the train go by. At Manassas, Culpepper and Orange the crowds were especially large. At the last place a large American flag flew from the staff in the national cemetery where are buried many of the Union dead. At Charlottesville there was an immense assemblage at the station. The students from the university lined up alongside of the train and gave the president three rousing cheers and a tiger when he made his appearance. From the platform of his car the president spoke as follows:

"It gives me very great pleasure to receive the greeting of the people of Charlottesville and the cheers of the young men of the University of Virginia (applause). Your institution is linked with great names and great deeds, and has influenced both (applause). What an array of immortal names Virginia holds in her keeping to remind us of lofty patriotism, broad statesmanship and noble achievements. (Applause.) To no other state of the American Union belongs such history to preserve and cherish and such examples to inspire and emulate. (Great applause.) May the young men of Virginia prove worthy sons of their noble ancestors and contribute in the future, as they did in the past, to the well being and honor and glory of the republic. (Great Applause.) Let me assure you, young gentlemen, that the present and the future hold rich reward for good scholarship, high character and noble endeavor, and the wish which I leave with you is that of these you may have your full share." (Prolonged applause.)

There were calls for Secretary Hay, but his only response was to introduce Postmaster General Smith, who said:

Postmaster General Spoke.

"This seems hardly a kindly service to be performed by the latest secretary of state in the home of the first great secretary of state of the United States. (Great applause.) The present secretary worthily perpetuates the literary fame and the statesmanlike achievements of the first great secretary, who lived here and planned this University of Virginia. (Great applause.) I recall that for many years the chief officer in my department of the public service in the city of Charlottesville was a noble woman, the daughter of a Union officer, and the wife of a Confederate officer. (Great applause.) She was first appointed by General Grant, and when in the early years of the first administration of President McKinley the suggestion was made of a change, he answered: 'No, I will remove no one appointed by General Grant, who preserves such memories.'" (Great applause.)

Mr. Smith's reference was to Mrs. Long, who was appointed postmistress of Charlottesville by General Grant. She was the daughter of General Sumner, of the Union army, and widow of General Long, of the Confederate army. Mrs. Long died some months ago.

In the city of Lynchburg, the home of Senator Daniel, there was a stop of about 10 minutes. Senator Daniel, Mayor G. W. Smith, members of the board of trade, and city council and a great crowd greeted the party with old-fashioned Virginia enthusiasm.

Senator Daniel made a speech of welcome to which the president responded.

The president said:

"I am very glad not only to meet the people of the city of Lynchburg, but to be presented by your distinguished senator. (Aplause.) It is a matter of no public interest, but only one of pure personal recollection that the first time I ever tried to come to Lynchburg I did not succeed. (Laughter.) I came here with a number of other gentlemen who sought entrance, but the gates were closed. (Laughter.) We could not open them, and you would not. (Laughter.) And so we departed to seek another host, if not more hospitable, less formidable than the one that greeted us here. (Laughter.) It is a happy time for me to come to Lynchburg now—the war over, no exchange of greetings with shot and shell, as then, but with the friendly welcome of all the people which typefies the respect and regard and good will which subsists between all sections of our common country." (Great Applause.)

CUBANS PLEASED.

Gratified With Their Mission to Washington—Probably Independence In February.

New York, April 30.—"Even annexation might be acceptable to Cuba, if it came after independence," said Dr. Rafael M. Portuondo, one of the members of the delegation from the Cuban national convention to Washington. "For 50 years she has longed and fought and bled for independence. That once attained she would agree to any fair demands the United States would make."

Gratified with the outcome of their mission, the delegates who have been in conference with President McKinley and Secretary of War Root arrived in New York. In the party are General Portuondo, General P. Bancourt, Dr. Pedro Gonzales Llorente, Dr. Diego Tamapo and Dr. D. Mendez Capote, the president of the convention.

General Portuondo was eloquent in his expressions of satisfaction with the result of the mission to Washington. "There was a misunderstanding," he said, "and now, for us at least, it has all been cleared. The trouble was with the Platt amendment. Many of the Cubans suspected it. They did not know what it meant. They doubted the motive that lay behind it. Not that they thought it might be unfair to Cuba only, but to the United States. The explanation given to us at Washington is plain and dispels our doubts. None of us can now question the honesty or impugn the fairmindedness of the senate. To be sure, there are terms about the amendment which cannot be adopted, but I think a great deal has been accomplished."

Asked how long it would take to establish a Cuban government, General Portuondo replied: "Not less than 10 months. There must be conventions and elections before the electoral council which chooses a president is selected. That will all take time, and I think we shall feel satisfied if our government is set in motion by Feb. 24 of next year. That, you know, is our Fourth of July, the anniversary of our rise against Spain. Our electoral body will be made up equally of representatives from the professional men, the wealthy citizens and provincial assemblies. The president must be a native Cuban or one who has fought 10 years for Cuban independence. A senator must be a native, but a representative may be a native or a naturalized citizen."

MAGNIFICENT GIFT.

Steubenville's $35,000 Hospital, Donated by Hon. J. J. Gill, Is Now Open.

Steubenville, April 30.—This afternoon and evening the new hospital building in Steubenville will be thrown open to the public, who are invited to inspect the building. The ladies of the Hospital association will be present to receive all visitors. No donations will be asked, but if any desire to make donations they will be gladly received.

That Steubenville possesses a hospital building of such size and magnificence, fitted out with all the convenience of a modern hospital, is due to the munificence and philanthropic liberality of Hon. J. J. Gill. In making this gift to the people, it was believed to be a much needed institution, and Mr. Gill imposed no provision, but he has erected and equipped the hospital at a cost to himself of about $35,000, and now that it is built it devolves on the people to maintain what has been given with such liberality.

Mr. Gill feels sure that it will be maintained, and his faith in the generosity of the people will be met with proper response in this regard.

He'd Have a Great Thirst.

When 35 years ago Lord Methuen joined the Scots Fusileer guards, now Scots guards, as a subaltern, he was well liked by the privates, although he was a trifle strict in the matter of enforcing discipline, says the Chicago Times-Herald. Lieutenant Methuen had the reputation of making very caustic remarks. The following is one of the best: In the lieutenant's company was a tall, handsome soldier who had but one failing—he could never keep sober. Otherwise he was an excellent soldier. One day, after he had received punishment in the orderly room for the offense of drunkenness, Lieutenant Methuen, who took an interest in the toper, severely remonstrated with him concerning his infirmity.

The man shook his head and replied: "Sir, I can't help it. I'll never be sober until the breath is out of my body."

With a smile Lieutenant Methuen retorted, "Ah, but when the breath is out of your body, then, I'm afraid, you'll have the greatest possible justification for being thirsty!"

"How was that?" they asked him.

CORDIAL RECEPTIONS

Given to President McKinley at the Outset of His Trip to the West.

MRS. M'KINLEY'S ENJOYMENT

She Was Not Feeling Particularly Well When the Start Was Made, but Was Improved Later On—Enthusiasm In Virginia.

Wytheville, Va., April 30.—The president and his party will keep in close touch with Washington throughout the trip to California. The railroad officials in charge of the train and the various divisions over which it passed took precautions to guard against the possibility of mishaps. The track, switches and bridges were all carefully inspected before the train reached a given station, everything on the road, passenger as well as freight, was sidetracked, and over the Norfolk Western railroad a pilot train ran ahead of the presidential special. Train crews on the sidetracks lined up and uncovered as the chief magistrate went by. Members of the party enjoyed the first day of their trip, and the president expressed his gratification over the receptions he had received. Mrs. McKinley, who was not feeling particularly well when the train started, became better as the day progressed, and last night said she had enjoyed it very much. Today, it was expected, the train will make brief stops at Huntsville, Decatur and Tuscumbia, Ala., and Corinth, Miss.

Memphis, where the party will remain until midnight, it was expected, will be reached about 4:30 p. m.

Enthusiastic at Charloottesville.

Charlottesville, Va., April 30.—The presidential train, with a tiny flag on the pilot of the engine denoting that the chief magistrate of the nation was on board, arrived at Charlottesville on schedule time. The run from Washington was made without incident. A brief stop was made at Alenandria. A big crowd had assembled at the station there and the president and Mrs. McKinley appeared upon the platform to acknowledge salutes. THE NEW MODERATOR

Presbyterians Campaigning on a Head For the General Assembly.

TWO CANDIDATES IN CALIFORNIA

One of them is Dr. John W. Dinsmore, Formerly of Washington County, Pa.—Movements For Revs. Drs. Kumler and Purves.

Pittsburg, April 30.—The campaign for the moderatorship of the Presbyterian general assembly, which is to meet in Philadelphia May 16, is now in vigorous progress.

The hardest work is being done in California, as it is conceded that the man who can come to Philadelphia with a solid Pacific coast to back him will carry off the highest honor of the church. According to the datest reports Rev. Henry Collin Minton, of San Francisco, is in the lead.

Rev. Dr. John W. Dinsmore, an old Washington county man, has also come out as a candidate and will be backed up by Elder David Jack, a millionaire ranchman of Monterey. All the California commissioners but one are pledged to support Dr. Minton, but Dr. Dinsmore has much strength all over the church.

This double-header from California has encouraged several eastern men to put in their oars for their favorite candidates in the east. One of the strongest men named recently is Rev. Dr. George T. Purves, pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church New York city, and for years the very popular pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city. Another eastern candidate is Rev. Dr. ohn Dewitt, of Princeton Theological seminary. He has been the pastor of several large and influential churches and was once pastor of the Third Presbyterian church of Pittsburg.

Rev. Dr. Jeremiah P. E. Kumler, lately closed his 17 years' pastorate in the East Liberty Presbyterian church, is put forward by many friends.

BEET SUGAR INDUSTRY.

Active Tendency Toward Establishment of New Enterprises—Reported Condition of Industry.

Washington, April 30.—C. F. Saylor, of Iowa, the special agent in charge of the beet sugar investigation of the department of agriculture, was in Washington and submitted his report to Secretary Wilson. He said this year showed a very active tendency toward the institution of new beet sugar enterprises. Next autumn, he said, Michigan will have three new factories, and Ohio, Indiana, New York, Colorado, Utah, South and North Dakota and Illinois will instal new factory enterprises, making 13 throughout the United States now in contemplation. A conservative estimate, he said, was that there will be 42 beet sugar factories in operation throughout the United States by the end of next autumn. Everything indicated that the industry was thoroughly established throughout the country. Mr. Saylor said:

"Even in the incipiency of the industry these factories have shown good profits. They have maintained themselves without any apparent real contest with the sugar trust. The sections of the country that seem most adaptable to the industry are where conditions call for new resources, as in Michigan, where there has been a phenomenal increase in the last three years, largely due to the waning of the lumbering industry of that region. There will be 14 factories there next season. California is the leading state in production, with eight factories, including the largest in the world. The immense amount of pulp and refuse left after the extraction of the sugar appeals especially to the farmer and the corollary industries that grow out of farm products." Mr. Saylor says no other feed is so valuable and cheap for the dairy and stock feeding interests as beet pulp. These factories turn out from 45 to 50 per cent of the original weight of the beets worked in the form of the refuse or bi-products. Sugar beet seems to respond especially to cultivation in the arid region, where they have given better results than in any other crop. The arid section has been enabled to cope with other sections of the country where the crops have been produced by natural rainfall, not only in the amount of tonnage per acre, but in the higher sugar contents and the purity of the beet. The results in Utah have demonstrated the feasibility of the central plant idea, with branches scattered at numerous points for performing some detailed parts of the work."

FAMILY OF EIGHT MISSING.

Farm Residence, Barn and Buildings Found Burned.

Brookville, Ind., April 30.—The farm residence, barn and all buildings belonging to Joseph Horn burned to the ground and the family cannot be found. The family consisted of Horn, his wife and five children. Already the bodies of the horses are visible in the embers of the barn, but the fire was still too hot to determine if the bodies of the members of the family were buried under the debris of the residence. Every effort was being made to find members of the family in the neighborhood, but as yet they have been unsuccesful, and it is believed that all perished in the flames.

Six years ago Horn's house and outbuildings burned while he was away on business with his family at the county seat.

A Salem Girl Disappears After Being Chided Regarding Her Beaux.

Salem, April 30.—Miss Annie Moff, one of the most beautiful girls in the city, left home Saturday and her parents are almost distracted.

The girl's parents are quite well to do. The girl, who is not over 16 years of age, is well developed and looks to be 18 or 19 years old. She had a host of admirers, and lately a young man has been paying attention to her. One night she kept company with him until 12 o'clock. Being so young, this made her parents a little angry and she received a calling down.

She Had Waited For It.

He (about to ask for a kiss)—I have an important question to ask you.

She (playfully)—I know what it is, George. You want me to be your wife. Well, take me.

He (rather taken aback)—This is somewhat sudden, isn't it?

She (tenderly)—I don't know, George, whether it is sudden for you or not, but I have waited for it for three years.—

THE NEW MODERATOR

Presbyterians Campaigning on a Head For the General Assembly.

TWO CANDIDATES IN CALIFORNIA

One of them is Dr. John W. Dinsmore, Formerly of Washington County, Pa.—Movements For Revs. Drs. Kumler and Purves.

Pittsburg, April 30.—The campaign for the moderatorship of the Presbyterian general assembly, which is to meet in Philadelphia May 16, is now in vigorous progress.

The hardest work is being done in California, as it is conceded that the man who can come to Philadelphia with a solid Pacific coast to back him will carry off the highest honor of the church. According to the datest reports Rev. Henry Collin Minton, of San Francisco, is in the lead.

Rev. Dr. John W. Dinsmore, an old Washington county man, has also come out as a candidate and will be backed up by Elder David Jack, a millionaire ranchman of Monterey. All the California commissioners but one are pledged to support Dr. Minton, but Dr. Dinsmore has much strength all over the church.

This double-header from California has encouraged several eastern men to put in their oars for their favorite candidates in the east. One of the strongest men named recently is Rev. Dr. George T. Purves, pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church New York city, and for years the very popular pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city. Another eastern candidate is Rev. Dr. ohn Dewitt, of Princeton Theological seminary. He has been the pastor of several large and influential churches and was once pastor of the Third Presbyterian church of Pittsburg.

Rev. Dr. Jeremiah P. E. Kumler, lately closed his 17 years' pastorate in the East Liberty Presbyterian church, is put forward by many friends.

ICE THIS YEAR AT OLD RATES

Less Than the Usual Quantity of the Natural Product Was Harvested.

CONSUMERS ARE FORTUNATE

The Dealers Say, People Getting Their Supply at a Lower Rate Than in Neighboring Cities—An Agreement Forbids Any Cut in Prices.

The quantity of ice harvested in East Liverpool this year was not as large as in former seasons, and the probabilities are that the consumer will be entirely dependent upon the output of the Crockery City company before the season ends.

The Andrews company, who handle the natural article, have put up between 1,200 and 1,500 tons, while the Reed concern in California Hollow has a supply scarcely less than that.

The ice men say the consumers of this city are very fortunate in being able to secure the low rates charged here. They claim we pay less for ice in this city than in any part of the surrounding towns and cities, and that it would be impossible for them to furnish it at a lower figure and make anything in the way of profit.

There is an agreement between the three companies whereby a uniform price is paid, and the rate depends upon the business engaged in or the quantity used. Saloons and retail stores are furnished with ice at 25 cents per 100 pounds, which is five cents less than is charged in Youngstown and Canton and 10 cents less than Pittsburg's price.

Butchers, who use the ice in much larger quantities than any other class of merchants, are supplied at a 20-cent rate. The companies have no trade in the wholesale line to speak of, although the Crockery City people furnish large quantities to the trade in Wellsville. With the present facilities of the company it would be impossible to supply more than they now turn out during the busy season.

Inquiry deevloped that the crop this year is greater and of a better quality than it was last year. The amount of ice that has been stored will amount to some 2,500 tons. None of this has been cut on the river, except that put up by private individuals for their own consumption.

BACK IN JAIL AGAIN.

The bondsmen of John Fedorisin, otherwise known as Federish, have refused to continue on the bond and yesterday he was delivereti to the authorities. He is now in jail.

The charge against him is that of assault with intent to kill, and he will likely be sent to Lisbon to await the action of the grand jury. At least this was the advice of Prosecutor Brookes.

Mike Baile, whom Fedorisin assaulted several weeks ago, is able to be out and was up town this morning. An effort is being made by defendant's attorney, H. E. Grosshans, to have the matter disposed of here, but it is thought the prisoner will be compelled to answer to a higher court.

LOST AND FOUND.

I lost a maiden long ago;
Last night I thought I'd found her,
And as my loyal heart's one queen
I quietly recrowned her.

'Twould not be truth to say she seemed
Untouched by time, since fairer
E'en than of old I found her face,
The roses in it rarer.

Her halo had more golden grown,
While locks once hyacinthine
Upon my own poor pate, alas,
For many a year have been thin!

The eyes—whose shafts the little god
Employed to overcome me—
Shone brighter. Smiles were on the lips
Whose "No" did once benumb me.

My heart beat high with hope, but when
I spoke her name another
Who stood beside the maid replied,
The maiden called her "Mother."

The matron smiled on me. I dared
Not tell her that I'd sought her
Through long and weary years, at last
To find her—in her daughter!

Character Told by Lips.

"Whether or not we believe in phrenology, physiognomy and kindred sciences, there are some peculiarities of feature that are quite often indicative of certain traits of character," said an observant man. "From no one feature of the face can the disposition be more accurately read than from the lips and especially the upper lip. The lower one is less prophetic.

"A person with a short, sharply curved upper lip is nearly always of a happy, lovable disposition. One with a short but straight upper lip is apt to be of a low order of intellect and coarse in his tastes. The person with a long, straight upper lip is the one to beware of. He has a will like adamant, is not always thoroughly trustworthy, is apt to be quarrelsome and jealous and is more often than not an unmitigated politician. If he is gifted with a strong intellect, he will make his mark in one way or another; if he is not, he may become a harmless person, a parasite or a scoundrel. The man whose upper lip protrudes is apt to be a shrewd business man.

"The person whose mouth has a decided droop at the corners may be a humorist, a hypochondriac or a poet. The possessor of a mouth curved in the style of Cupid's bow is indeed happy, for in nine cases out of ten he also possesses a refined, æsthetic and yet practical nature, susceptible to every beautiful and ennobling influence."—Chicago Record.

Old Fashioned Cancer Cure.

Take the common sheep sorrel which grows in your yard and which children eat because of its sourness, mash it up into a pulp in some vessel that will save all the juice that would otherwise be lost, then put it into a bag and squeeze out all the juice on to a pewter plate to get some of the acid from the metal, then put this out in the sun and let it dry until about as thick as tar, then put in tight bottle. If the skin is not broken, put a drop of chloride of potash or lye on it to break the skin and then apply the sorrel on the cancer, just covering it with a thin coat. If the sorrel gets too thick, a little water will make it so that it can be handled.

The pain will be severe, but it is otherwise harmless. It will stop hurting in a few hours. Keep up these applications, one every day, until the cancer can be lifted out without pain. It took four days in my case. The sorrel will cook the cancer, but it does not eat it as it does the flesh, hence it eats all the flesh away and lets the cancer loose. When you see the cancer, put the sorrel on it and not on the flesh. When the cancer is out, heal the sore with any kind of healing ointment.—J. A. Wayland in Appeal to Reason.

Bury Their Lepers Alive.

The Chinese have a curiously cheerful way of disposing of their lepers. The relatives of the afflicted person propose to him that they bury him alive, and, such is the fatalism of the Chinese, that the victim readily consents. An extra elaborate meal is served to him in the way of a farewell banquet, and then the funeral procession forms. The man who is about to be immured under the sod follows his own coffin, and when he reaches the grave he takes a dose of laudanum, hops into the box and settles down for eternity.

Dr. Wittenberg, writing on the subject of leprosy in China, states that the pure nerve form is the least common. In such cases, as is well known, the patients may go on for years. As to the mixed form, it is fairly common, but it is a difficult matter to estimate the number of lepers in any given district. The sufferers lead the common life so long as they remain free from destructive lesions. When these occur to any marked degree, the leper is either segregated in a hut or he is allowed to wander about the country, sustaining life by begging. Dr. Wittenberg records cases of direct contagion from mother-in-law to daughter-in-law.

A Criminal.

A friend of mine, the minister of a west end chapel in London, tells how, in his last visit to America, he preached in one of the larger jails and after the service visited some of the prisoners in their cells. One case interested him especially, a man of good education and address and seemingly of abilities fitted to command success in the world. My friend gave vent to his sincere distress at finding such a man in such a position and was going on to "improve the occasion" when the prisoner cut in with the remark that he believed in England we were fond of fox hunting.

My friend, regarding it as a broad hint to change the subject, assented.

"And may I ask," said his companion, "when a man gets a fall, does he give up hunting?" And on getting the only possible answer to such a question he added, "I have had a bad fall, and no mistake, but I count on better luck another time."

This case is thoroughly typical. The true professional is not a weak creature who yields to uncontrollable impulse. Loving a life of adventure and having a soul above working for his living, he pursues a life of crime with a full appreciation of its risks. Change those risks to certainties, and you at once supply a motive adequate to influence his course. If every fox hunter ended by breaking his neck, fox hunting would be shunned, save by a few desperate men, and the same would be true of professional crime of this character if it always ended in disaster.—Nineteenth Century.

Worked the Passengers.

An amusing scene was witnessed one day on one of the mail boats running from Calais to Dover. The sea was rather rough. A young woman, pretty and nicely dressed, appeared to be suddenly taken very ill with seasickness. She groaned and screamed in apparent agony for some little time.

At length a person who appeared to be a stranger to her approached and asked whether she would like to take a lozenge, which he guaranteed would ease her pain. He had often tried it, he said, on people and always with the most marvelous results. The young lady demurred a little at first, but finally accepted the offer Never was cure so instantaneous. Hardly had she swallowed the lozenge than the fair patient was sitting up all smiles and ordering ham sandwiches of the steward.

Some passengers were so struck with the incident that they inquired what was the remedy that had had such a wonderful result, and the gentleman, who, as he said, was the agent for the sale of the lozenges, disposed of a considerable number of boxes of them at 10 francs apiece. What was the surprise of the purchasers when they saw the young lady and her preserver go off arm in arm on the vessel reaching Dover! The boxes contained common jujubes.—London Telegraph.

An Officious Sexton.

There is an Irish clergyman of our acquaintance who has deservedly a considerable local reputation as a wit and story teller. He sees everything from the humorous side. His appearance, his voice and manner are all mirth provoking, especially his laugh. The present writer heard him speak lately of his sexton, who appears to be an original. A lady, a stranger to the place, asked him if there were daily matins in the church. "No, madam," he replied, "we can't afford that, but we put down cocoanut every Sunday."

This official is close at hand at all baptisms and marriages and instinctively answers all the questions asked of sponsors and couples being married, so that the rector says he is godfather to innumerable children and has married himself to a considerable number of brides, for when the question is put, "Wilt thou have this woman to be thy wedded wife?" he always audibly answers, "I will." It may be truly said "this is very Irish," for so it is. Indeed, we have been told of a case in which a young lady about to be married in the church which this sexton serves made it a proviso that he should be charged to keep his distance during the ceremony.—Exchange.

Abolition of the Ducking Stool.

The most noteworthy of all the instruments designed for the correction of Eve's offending daughters was the ducking stool, known as the tumbrel and the trebuchet. A post, across which was a transverse beam turning on a swivel and with a chair at one end was set up on the edge of a pond. Into the chair the woman was chained, turned toward the water—a muddy or filthy pond was usually chosen for this purpose when available—and ducked half a dozen times or, if the water inflamed her instead of acting as a damper, she was let down times innumerable until she was exhausted and well nigh drowned.

From the frequency with which we find it mentioned in old local and county histories, in church wardens' and chamberlains' accounts and by the poets (Gay, for one, has a description of the process in his third pastoral, "The Shepherd's Week") we shall probably not be wrong in concluding that at one time this institution was kept up all over the country. In Liverpool, according to The Gentleman's Magazine for 1803, it was not formally abolished until 1776.—London Graphic.

A Fine Distinction.

A young down town drug clerk who had heard the story of the colored woman who had asked for flesh colored court plaster and was given black by the observant dealer stored the incident away in his mental dust box and decided to use it at the first opportunity. He had not long to wait, for a few nights ago a comely colored girl stepped into the store where he was employed. "Ah wants some cou't plaster," she said.

"What color?" inquired the clerk, with affected nonchalance.

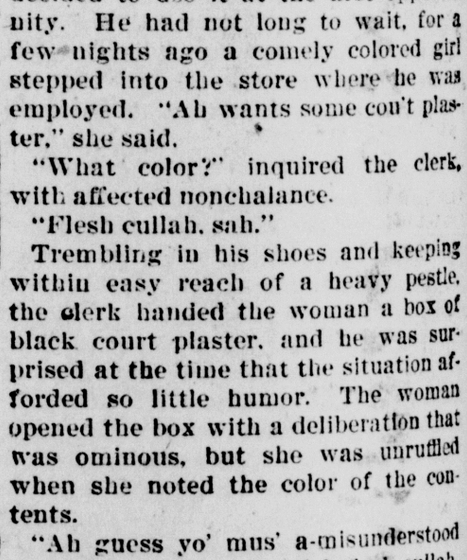

"Flesh cullah, sah."

Trembling in his shoes and keeping within easy reach of a heavy pestle, the clerk handed the woman a box of black court plaster, and he was surprised at the time that the situation afforded so little humor. The woman opened the box with a deliberation that was ominous, but she was unruffled when she noted the color of the contents.

"Ah guess yo' mus' a-misunderstood mah ordah. Ah asked foh flesh cullah, and yo' done give me skin cullah."

The drug clerk is still a little dazed from the encounter, and he has firmly resolved to subject every joke to rigid laboratory test hereafter before using.—Pittsburg News.

A post, across which was a transverse beam turning on a swivel and with a chair at one end was set up on the edge of a pond. Into the chair the woman was chained, turned toward the water—a muddy or filthy pond was usually chosen for this purpose when available—and ducked half a dozen times or, if the water inflamed her instead of acting as a damper, she was let down times innumerable until she was exhausted and well nigh drowned.

From the frequency with which we find it mentioned in old local and county histories, in church wardens' and chamberlains' accounts and by the poets (Gay, for one, has a description of the process in his third pastoral, "The Shepherd's Week") we shall probably not be wrong in concluding that at one time this institution was kept up all over the country. In Liverpool, according to The Gentleman's Magazine for 1803, it was not formally abolished until 1776.—London Graphic.

A Fine Distinction.

A young down town drug clerk who had heard the story of the colored woman who had asked for flesh colored court plaster and was given black by the observant dealer stored the incident away in his mental dust box and decided to use it at the first opportunity. He had not long to wait, for a few nights ago a comely colored girl stepped into the store where he was employed. "Ah wants some cou't plaster," she said.

"What color?" inquired the clerk, with affected nonchalance.

"Flesh cullah, sah."

Trembling in his shoes and keeping within easy reach of a heavy pestle, the clerk handed the woman a box of black court plaster, and he was surprised at the time that the situation afforded so little humor. The woman opened the box with a deliberation that was ominous, but she was unruffled when she noted the color of the contents.

"Ah guess yo' mus' a-misunderstood mah ordah. Ah asked foh flesh cullah, and yo' done give me skin cullah."

The drug clerk is still a little dazed from the encounter, and he has firmly resolved to subject every joke to rigid laboratory test hereafter before using.—Pittsburg News.

MOTTOES OF STATES

Questions Schoolboys Can Answer Which Puzzle Older People's Heads.

UNCLE SAM'S GREAT SEAL

It Was Designed by An Englishman, Who Also Suggested the National Motto, "Epluribus Unum"—Ablest Statesmen Appealed to in Vain.

If you desire to have fun with a learned acquaintance, ask him simple questions about his country, its history, financial condition, political divisions, geographical lines, climatology, topography, etc. Questions that any schoolboy can answer Dr. Knowall will stumble clumsily over, often getting a bad fall. There is one question that I have never heard any one answer—namely, "What are the mottoes of the several states of the Union and their meaning?" A clever man may name that of his own state and guess at those of three or four of the more important sister states, but he is unlikely to know the meanings of any that are in the original Latin. Try some able professor in a crowd and see him flounder.

Ask the professor if he knows that the great seal of the United States was designed by an Englishman, Sir John Prestwich, who also suggested the motto, "E Pluribus Unum?" Our ablest men had failed to propose anything acceptable, Franklin, Jefferson, Adams, Lovell, Scott, Houston and others wasting nearly four years on the task. Franklin proposed Moses dividing the Red sea with this motto, "Rebellion to Tyrants Is Obedience to God;" Adams proposed the choice of Hercules and Jefferson the children of Israel in the wilderness. Doesn't it seem funny? Some of the suggested mottoes were "Bello vel Pace" (For War or Peace), "Semper" (Forever), "Deo Favente" (With God's Favor), "Virtus Sola Invicta" (Virtue Alone Invincible), etc. After six years the Englishman's device was adopted, and it yet remains the arms of the United States.

If the professor is familiar with the obverse of the great seal, ask him what he has to say of the reverse, and the chances are 100 to 1 that he cannot recollect the unfinished pyramid, the eye in the triangle, the glory proper, the motto over the eye, "Annuit Cœptis" (God Has Favored the Undertaking), and that under all, "Novus Ordo Seculorum" (A New Series of Ages). The obverse of the great seal, with its splendid eagle, the bundle of arrows, the olive branch, the 13 stripes, the 13 stars, the glory breaking from the clouds and the "E Pluribus Unum," is magnificently American, but the pyramid, the desert, the forbidding Egyptian sky and the eye in the triangle on the reverse are simply barbarous.

The great seal of the Confederacy by a strange arbitrament of fate was never used. It was made in England and reached Richmond about the time of its evacuation by the armies of the lost cause and the Confederate government. Its motto was "Deo Vindice" (God Maintains). The seal is a handsome silver die about three inches in diameter, bearing an equestrian portrait of Washington (after the statue in Richmond), surrounded with a wreath composed of cotton, tobacco sugar cane, corn, wheat and rice—the principal products of the Confederate states. It cost in England about $600, with press, wafers, seal papers, wax, silk cords, etc. It was presented to the state of South Carolina about 1887 and is kept in the office of the secretary of state.

Ask the professor if he remembers that Minnesota, founded by Americans, is the only state in the Union that has a French motto. The one originally selected and ordered engraved was Latin, but the die was spoiled and the French substitute was adopted, "L'Etoile du Nord" (The Star of the North). Does the professor recall that Montana is the only state with a Spanish motto? Strange that fur traders should have adopted "Oro y Plata" (Gold and Silver). If you say that one state has a Greek motto, he probably will do some pretty hard thinking before answering that it is California. "Eureka" is believed to be Greek for "I have found." The only Italian motto belongs to Maryland, and it originally belonged to the Calvert family, "Fatti Maschi, Parole Femine" (Deeds Are Males, Words Females). To be a trifle plainer, "Manly Deeds, Womanly Words." Ask the professor if he knows that Washington is the only state with an Indian motto. "Al-Ki" is pure Chinook for by and by, in the future or hereafter.—Exchange.

The great railroad magnate has invented a new game. It consists in taking a party of friends on a special train and racing against time across the continent. GRANDMAS OF TODAY.

KEEP IN THE RACE WITH THE YOUNG PEOPLE TO THE END.

Old Fashioned Grandmother Who Sat Darning Stockings a Thing of the Past.

I was bemoaning the fact that I had never known my grandmothers. One died before I was born and the other when I was a few months old. I thought it would be so comforting to have a grandmother because they always regarded their grandchildren as being incapable of doing wrong. At least they were sure to multiply one's virtues and minimize faults. Their chief object in life, as I picture them, was to minister to their descendants' comfort, to make the crooked places straight. The grandmother of my fancy would keep my clothes in repair, darn the stockings, knit plenty of washrags and silk mittens, surprise me with my favorite dishes, laugh at my jokes and generally submerge her life in the affairs of mine. What was I going to do in return for all this unselfish devotion? I would be her granddaughter. That, according to the old traditions, was quite enough compensation.

I was holding forth, exploiting my views and desires on the grandmother question in the presence of one of those people who delight to take a person down and make him feel cheap, especially if they imagine one is posing as younger than the family Bible records. This individual spoke up and said: "Why, if your grandmothers were living they would be so aged that they would be mummified. Instead of darning your stockings, knitting your mittens, they would be blind, deaf and imbecile. You would have to tend them with greater slavishness than a mother a newborn babe, and without the sweet recompense in the latter case. When people become imbecile with age, they grow repulsive, and the prolonging of this state is dreadful, while each day the unfolding of a budding life is filled with mysterious delights."

Of course I did not want a grandmother that was deaf, blind and imbecile. I thought I would drop the subject, as it appeared to be getting personal. But my companion continued: "Besides, could it be possible in the order of things for you to have a vigorous, industrious, capable grandmother, she would not be sitting at the chimney corner darning your stockings. She would be out attending to her lodge or club business, visiting the millinery openings, ordering a fashionable gown, playing cards or attending a high tea. The old fashioned grandmother is as much a thing of the past as the spinning wheel, the canalboat, stagecoach, making candles and family rendered soap."

I protested that I did not believe my grandmothers would be of the modern pattern. I had heard my mother tell often of how completely her mother lost her taste for society and outside affairs after she had grandchildren. She had raised a large family, but these reproductions were just as much a delight as had been the originals. She infinitely preferred their society to that of grown people. Their prattle, school experiences, little ambitions, filled her life completely. She was constantly planning surprises for them by making animal cakes, individual pies, candy, aprons, hoods, doll clothes.

"Yes, but if she lived now she would be different. The air she would breathe is filled with assertive germs which declare that every woman owes it to herself to have a career and stand at the helm and steer it to the very end. She must not allow her life to be submerged in that of her own children, as they make their appearance rather unwelcome frequently, but must have outside missions. As soon as her offspring is married off, which is accomplished with as great dispatch as diplomacy can secure, then she is free to carry out pet schemes and natural desires untrammeled."

"Perhaps you are right," I replied. Such a grandmother as this would be no comfort to me as a grandmother, while she might be a most helpful friend, and I could be proud of her position in the literary, artistic or philanthropic world as her tastes might dictate her pursuit.

A grandmother of my acquaintance said to me not long ago: "It would be a great trial to me to have my grandchildren or any children in the house with me now. I could not adapt myself to their demands and interruptions. I have raised my family and now want my time for individual pursuits." This woman has especial talents and necessities for using them, and in her case these feelings may not seem unnatural. But this is much the sentiment that possesses the grandmothers of the age who have no special missions or avocations outside the domestic circle. If they have means, they buy handsome gifts for their grandchildren and wish them to have all the advantages possible that do not represent personal self sacrifice or curtailment of freedom of action.

Women are imbued with the spirit of the age, which demands that there shall be no old ladies with caps and shawls who stay at home and guard the fireside, but that they must keep in the race with the young people to the very end.—Susan W. Ball in Terre Haute Gazette.

Made Fat by Water.

There is a six foot laundryman in Norristown who weighs 300 pounds. It is his own fault too.

"When I was 18," he will explain sadly, "I was like a lead pencil. A thinner fellow you never saw. I heard then that if I wished to get fat I need only to drink, morning and evening, as much water as I could hold. I wanted very badly to get fat, so I began this water treatment. A pint or so was at first my limit, and even that would sicken me, but as time passed my capacity became greater. Soon I could drink two or three quarts, and in time I could as easily drink a gallon. Well, the result was excellent. I took on flesh at a great rate. I got, too, so that I enjoyed my long night and morning drinks. I would look forward to my gallon draft all through the day. When, after seven years, I had reached the nice weight of 170 pounds, I decided to stop the treatment. But, alas, I couldn't. The long habit had grown too strong. It had made me a slave. And ever since I have been drinking, night and morning, a gallon of water—I do enjoy it so—and every year I taken on from 15 to 20 pounds. Finally, I guess, I'll bust."—Philadelphia Record.

On next Saturday the regular West End team will play the Buckeye Stars at the Rock Springs park, Chester. This will be the first game this season for the West End team. They expect to play Salineville and are arranging for a game with a Pittsburg team.

The line up of the team is as follows: Captain, L. Eardley; manager, P. Hester; first, H. Tyson; second, J. Heckathorn; third, F. Coleman; left, J. Tomlinson; center, E. Carey; right J. Kearns; short, C. M. Emerling; catcher, L. Emerling; pitchers, Hebson and Stillwell.

THE SPITTING HABIT

Need of Public Sentiment That the Practice Is Indecent and Barbarous.

The Journal of the American Medical association contains the following under the caption, "The Question of Anti-Expectoration," which should be read carefully by every one:

"There is no physician—at least we confidently assume this to be the case—who will not endorse anti-spitting ordinances on general principles. If there is any way in which the tuberculosis germs can be universally disseminated it is through expectoration, and there are other sanitary objections, only a little less emphatic, against the practice, to say nothing of moral and esthetic ones. If the anti-tuberculosis crusade does nothing more than put a stop tto the abominable practice of public expectoration in all sorts of places it will deserve the gratitude of mankind.

"What we want is a creation of public sentiment that it is indecent and disreputable to spit in public places, and when that exists it will not be difficult to make the act unprofitable and to enforce regulations against it. Our civilization is too far behind that of other countries in this regard; a duly educated public opinion bringing the public spitter into proper contempt is what we need. It may be necessary to acquire this before anti-spitting regulations can be fully enforced, but the present agitation, if not allowed to die out, will help to bring this about. Let us have anti-spitting laws and enforce them as far as we can."

Going to Washington State.

Lisbon, April 30.—E. R. Maxfield and wife have sold their home property on Pine street to Isaac Patterson. Today Mr. Maxfield and family, Mr. Bayton and family, Will Gamble and family and Fred Stahl left on the western excursion to locate in Washington. The families of Mr. Maxfield and Mr. Bayton will locate near Port Angeles.

16TH YEAR. NO. 273. EAST LIVERPOOL, O., TUESDAY, APRIL 30, 1901—12 PAGES. TWO CENTS

SCREEN ORDINANCE VOID IN JUDCE HOLE'S OPINION

Holds That It Covers Too Wide a Scope and Is In Conflict With the Statutes of Ohio.

SALOON MEN CAN NOW FILE PETITION IN ERROR

The Finding of Mayor Davidson, Who Fined the Three Defendant, $50 Each and Costs, Is Reversed at the Cost of the City—Position of the Liquor Men's Attorneys as to the Unconstitutionality of the Ordinance Sustained—An East Liverpool Couple Divorced.

Lisbon, April 30.—(Special.)—As announced by Judge Hole yesterday, his decision in the cases brought to test the validity of the East Liverpool screen ordinance, which were sumbitted to him at the close of the last term of court, was handed down today. The opinion is a long one, covering 17 pages of typewritten manuscript, but summed up in one sentence, it declares the ordinance void, and sustains the motion for leave to file a petition in error in common pleas court.

This ruling reverses the finding and judgment of Mayor Davidson at the cost of the city, and while given in the case of Aaron Guthrie, a similar ruling was made in the cases of David A. Devine and John C. Walsh, defendants in error against the city, who brought actions under different sections of the ordinance. This ruling was made for the reason that the screen ordinance was too broad in its scope and utterly failed to make any provision for the exceptions which the state law requires to be made.

These exceptions are contained in section 8 of what is known as the Dow law and are made in favor of those selling liquor by prescription, issued in good faith by reputable physicians in active practice, or for exclusively known mechanical, pharmaceutical or sacramental purposes. This section also allows sales of intoxicating liquors, made from the raw material, to be sold at the manufactory, in quantities of one gallon or more.

Guthrie, Devine and Walsh were arrested in East Liverpool on April 10 under the new ordinance, and were charged with having, at the hour of 9:30 p. m. (10:30 in East Liverpool) used more than one room for the sale of intoxicating liquors. They were convicted and fined $50 and costs each, when Guthrie filed a motion, claiming that the ordinance was void for the reason that it was inconsistent with the laws of the state and beyond the power delegated by the state to municipalities. He also claimed that it was unreasonable and in contravention of the constitution of the United States and that of the state of Ohio. Error was charged against the lower court in a number of instances.

Court has granted a divorce to Mrs. Mary A. Calhoun from William Calhoun, of East Liverpool. The original action was filed here in January, 1898. In January last a supplemental petition was filed, alleging more serious charges against the defendant. Calhoun was first charged with drunkenness and gross neglect, but during the past year the plaintiff claims that she has discovered that he has been guilty of criminal misconduct with Alice Emmerling. The Calhouns were married in 1871 at New Brighton.

The cases of George W. Iler, receiver of the bank of Garrett, against Maria M. Stevenson and Millie Todd against Daniel Todd were dismissed.

In the case of John P. Shivers against Reasin Shivers et al, the report of the commissioners was confirmed and an order of public sale issued for 79.39 acres in Wayne township and 39.82 acres in Madison township. The first tract has been appraised at $1,120 and the latter at $400. The sale will take place on the premises May 29, at 10 o'clock.

A FREE OUTING FOR THE SCHOOLS

Offered By the Rock Springs Street Railway and the Park Owners.

TEACHERS AND PUPILS TO GO

Special Cars Will Be Provided—The Offer Will Be Accepted for Next Month—John C. Wallace Retained as School Enumerator.

The board of education held a short session in the directors' room, Central building, last night, Members Vodrey, Hill, Wells, Smith and Murphy being present.

A proposition was received from J. Howard Maxwell, manager of Rock Springs park. He said:

"We wish to submit for your consideration a propsition for an outing for the East Liverpool public schools, as follows:

"The East Liverpool and Rock Springs street railway will furnish transportation for all regular school scholars, teachers, superintendent and directors over its lines; free admission to grounds for a day to be agreed upon, using special cars for transportation to those who are entitled to the same. The only necessary expense for the board to bear is the providing of a ticket to indicate who are entitled to the privilege.

"This is offered as a compliment to the East Liverpool public schools and their directors by the East Liverpool and Rock Springs Street Railway company, the East Liverpool Bridge company and those interested in Rock Springs park.

"If this proposition is agreeable to you, will you kindly appoint a committee to have charge of the arrangements and confer with the undersigned in completing same? Trusting that you will act on this matter at your earliest convenience, I remain,

"Yours truly,

"J. HOWARD MAXWELL."

A. T. Kelly, Superintendent Rayman and W. B. Hill were appointed by the chairman and they will confer with Mr. Maxwell. A date will be fixed for some time during the month of May.

John C. Wallace was the only applicant for the position of school enumerator, and he was retained. The books and documents for the work have been ordered and the task will be commenced immediately upon their arrival. He will receive $75.

Superintendent Rayman made a report on the high school lecture course, and the official announcement made of the closing of the school term on May 31. The matter of ordering diplomas was left in the hands of the superintendent. The graduating class this year will contain 28 members, the largest in the history of the schools.

Jumped the Track.

Car No. 15, in charge of Conductor Deitz, jumped the track at the foot of Broadway at noon today and caused a transfer for over 30 minutes.

GOES TO THE WORKS

CARRAHER STARTS FOR CANTON THIS MORNING.

Other Prospective Guests for the Workhouse—Police Win Praise for Their Stand.

W. L. Blackmore was arrested by Pat Woods last night on a charge of intoxication. The man hails from Chester, and as he has no money with which to pay a fine he may get a trip to the workhouse.

Officer Mahoney contribuated another victim to the list of vagrants last evening in the person of Nattie Marland. The authorities had planned to send Nattie to Canton today in company with "Chongeye" Carraher, but about the time the papers were made out it was discovered that Marland had a subpoena in his pocket summoning him to the county seat to testify before the grand jury on Thursday.

Different arrangements will have to be made for the disposition of his case when the grand jury is through with him.

Officer Mahoney accompanied Carraher to the works this morning, and it is likely that there will be a number of similar trips made within the next few days.

The authorities are being commended on every hand for their stand against loafers and bums, and the hope is expressed that the movement will be continued until the city is entirely free from the objectionable element.

May Enter the Combine.

London, April 30.—(Special.)—It is reported here that the American line intends effecting a working arrangement with the shipping combination and may even enter it.

IN NO DANGER OF OVERDOING

What a Trades Journal Says of the Outlook For the Pottery Industry.

AMERICA IMPORTS MUCH

That Could as Well Be Made at Home. More Potteries Producing High Grade Ware Are Needed—New Establishments of This Class.

An article from the Crockery & Glass Journal deploring the boom in pottery building was reproduced in these columns a few weeks ago, says a writer in the Commoner and Glassworker. We think it strange that such an authority should take such a short-sighted view and we are afraid that if it continues along that line it will fully corroborate the accusation so often made against it by domestic manufacturers, of the partiality to importers who fill its advertising columns.

It should know that up to a few years ago we were only making one-half what we consumed in earthenware, about $8,000,000 worth out of a total of $16,000,000, and that even now, with our increased capacity, we are making about $13,000,000 of the nearly $18,000,000 worth consumed annually. Besides this we have not gotten into the making of the finer grades of china which the new potteries will force much quicker than would otherwise be the case. Our bodies have been improving each year, but still we do not begin to compete with France; and even England, which we are outclassing in other lines, is still ahead of us in porcelain manufacture.

The indications are that we are really in our infancy in the product of high grade earthenware.

How often was the same comment made 15 or 20 years ago about the glass trade and still they kept on building factories until of recent years they have been building them by the dozen, and who will say even now that we are at the end of our string in glass factory building? It is true that we have had our seasons of depression, but this is no more true of the glass, nor will it be of the pottery trade ,than of any other business with its ups and downs.

What we want is more potteries producing high grade ware and bringing it within the reach of the more general public, instead of depending upon the foreign product at excessive prices. Of course, we must admit that for material and finish the foreign goods get the best of it, and they are generally thus far entitled to it; but we have the brains and skill here just as they have and all we need is the new modern competing potteries to take the lead, or force some of the old concerns to put their best efforts forward, and then we may not only hope to compete but even excel the foreign production. This much desired condition can be brought much quicker by the building of new potteries, all of which we welcome. The more the merrier and the greater the hope of the pottery industry of America.

THE CONFERENCE MAY END THIS EVENING.

Since the conference committee began their work at 1 o'clock yesterday they have evidenced a disposition to dispose of the questions confronting them in the shortest time possible.

The meeting was called to order at 1 o'clock yesterday, and the members lost no time in getting down to business. The session adjourned at 5:30 last evening, it having been decided to not hold a night session.

It had been announced that the members would assemble at 9 o'clock this morning, but it was almost 10 o'clock before they got together.

This morning's session was held in Brotherhood hall, owing to an interruption in close proximity to the rooms of the Potters' club. Considerable progress was made at this session, and it is possible that the work may be finished this afternoon. This is, of course, a matter no one could tell, as something may come up at any moment which would prolong the conference indefinitely.

The good feeling that at first characterized the negotiations, still continues and gives promise of continuing.

REVIVALIST AND THIEF

WEST VIRGINIAN WHO LED A DOUBLE LIFE.

Now in the Penitentiary to Serve Ten Years for Horse-Stealing.

Moundsville, W. Va., April 30.—The sheriff of Mineral county arrived here yesterday with Rev. J. H. Graham, sentenced to serve ten years for horse-stealing. He had been here before on the same charge under the name of James Ratliff, and that's why he got such a heavy dose. Graham is a powerful man, with one arm, long gray hair, wears a Prince Albert of broadcloth, a broad hat and has a voice of thunder. He has used all these insignia of the cloth to further his thieving plans. His last theft, that sent him to prison, was in Mineral county.

While in jail at Keyser he sold information to owners of six horses that led to their recovery. He pleaded guilty, admitted a former conviction and made a plea for mercy. He admits a mania for stealing horses, but says his true life is that of an exhorter. He is said to have been remarkably successful as a revivalist preacher.

ANOTHER ONE GIVES UP.

Gen. Tinco the Latest Filipino Leader to Quit, Following the Example of Other Insurgents.

Manila, April 30.—(Special.)—General Tinco, one of the few remaining insurgent leaders ,has now surrendered to the Americans.

SENATOR HANNA ILL.

REPORTED SUFFERING FROM ATTACK OF HEART FAILURE.

Fell Unconscious in His Office Saturday And Is Now Keeping Quiet.

Cleveland, April 30.—The Washington correspondent of the Leader says: Senator Hanna had another serious attack of heart failure Saturday. Although efforts were made to keep it quiet, it was learned today that while writing a letter he fell unconscious to the floor of his office in his house. His secretary, Mr. Dover, called for assistance, and the senator was carried to his room.

His physician ordered him to remain in bed, but the senator rested quietly during the afternoon, and felt so much better that he occupied a box at the theater during the evening.

He is a personad friend of H. C. Barnabee, of the Bostonians, and it was this fact that induced him to make the effort to hear the opera.

YOUNGSTOWN-CLEVELAND.

A Trolley Line to Connect the Two Cities And Intermediate Towns.

Warren, O., April 30.—J. A. Blackburn and George W. Taylor, of Leavittsburg, called here and went before the county commissioners and asked for a franchise for an electric line through Trumbull to the Portage county line, the line in this county to reach from this city to Portage. The gentlemen also made application for a franchise in Portage, the object being to join the two lines that are controlled by the Cleveland and Chagrin Consolidated company and have a continuous line from Youngstown to Cleveland.

It is said here that it is likely that the request will be granted and that the work will be begun within 30 days on both ends of the road. It is a popular move all right enough, but of course the commissioners don't believe in giving away the earth to a corporation.

EAST END.

HUNTED A WEASEL.

Two Hundred Men And Dogs Amuse Themselves Running Down a Little Animal.

The boys at the Klondike plant had quite an unusual diversion at the noon hour yesterday. An old farmer offered a weasel for sale. The boys purchased it, and at noon, after securing several dogs, let it loose in the center of a large field near the pottery. The 200 or more employes all gathered in a circle to watch the fun.

The weasel entertained them for about 40 minutes with some lightning moves that made the dogs seem very clumsy. Finally, after the little animal—the only one in the game who did not enjoy it—was wearied out one of the dogs caught it and the cruel sport came to an end.

Laying a New Main.

The razing of the small mound near the railroad—not the Thompson mound on the Supplee tract—was begun today. The four-inch main of the Ohio Valley Gas company runs through this mound and it will be necessary for the company to relay it. It is stated by a man connected with the company that this old main, which runs to the Klondike pottery, would be replaced by a new six-inch main. This will make it necessary to lay about a mile of new pipe.

George Koutz, of Marion county, Indiana, has returned to the East End, where he will be employed in the sewer pipe works. He worked there last summer.

William Spearhas will leave tomorrow morning for Lawrence county, Pa., where he will spend two weeks visiting relatives. Mr. Spearhas has just recovered from a protracted illness with typhoid fever.

NOTES FROM THE NORTHSIDE.

Howard Kauffman is confined to his home on Avondale street with an attack of typhoid fever.

S. W. Brothers yesterday moved his family from the Hinton property on Avondale street to his new residence in the West End, which was recently completed.

The residents of Bradshaw avenue and Avondale street would like very well to see the street force appear for the purpose of cleaning those thoroughfares, as they are very dirty.

A SALEM SWIMMER.

Charles Tolerton Proposes to Accomplish the Feat of Swimming Across Conneaut Lake.

Salem, April 30.—Charles Tolerton, the 18-year-old son of H .A. Tolerton, a youth who has won much local fame as a swimmer and is as much at home in the water as a fish, proposes further to extend his reputation by swimming across Conneaut lake this summer.

Mr. Tolerton has been inspired to attempt this feat by reading about a 15-year-old girl who swam across the like in its widest part. She is the only person who ever accomplished the feat. A man tried to swim across about 20 years ago, but lost his life in the attempt. He drowned when he was about half way across the lake. Tolerton would like some one else to try the feat with him, and challenges anybody in this city to swim against him. The lake is from one and a half to two miles wide.

DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION

"I had been a sufferer for many years from nervousness with all its symptoms and complications," writes Mrs. O. N. Fisher, 1861 Lexington Ave., New York, N. Y. "I was constantly going to see a physician or purchasing medicine. In the spring of 1897 my husband induced me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. After taking one bottle and following your advice I was so encouraged that I took five more bottles, and then stopped for several weeks as I felt so much better, but still I was not completely cured. I commenced taking it again and felt that I was improving faster than at first. I am not now cross and irritable, and I have a good color in my face; have also gained about ten pounds in weight and one thousand pounds of comfort, for I am a new woman once more and your advice and your 'Favorite Prescription' is the cause of it, coupled with the 'Pleasant Pellets' which are not to be dispensed with. I took eight bottles of the 'Prescription' the last time, making fourteen in all, and will not take any more unless you so advise, for I do not see as I need it."

CRIME OF CAPT. REED

Consisted In His Effort to Shield Major George B. Davis.

SOLICITED MONEY TO DO SO

Also Had Lieut. Townley, of the Navy, Ask For Money From Frms to Cover Up Davis' Shortage—Commissary Scandal Trial at Manila.

Manila, April 30.—The trial of Captain James C. Reed, former depot commissary at Manila, and who was arested about a fortnight ago for alleged participation in the commissary frauds, was begun here and bids fair to develop into a celebrated case. Captain Reed is charged with soliciting and receiving bribes and with other official misconduct.

Objections to Jurisdiction Overruled.

At the beginning of the trial counsel for the defendant objected to the jurisdiction of the court, alleging that under an act promulgated in 1901 officers of the regular establishment are ineligible as members of a court martial to try an officer of volunteers. The defense further denied that a state of war existed in Manila today and alleged that the provost marshal, General George W. Davis, is unauthorized to convene a general court martial, and intimating that as General MacArthur virtually preferred the charges against Captain Reed, the orders directing his trial by court martial should come from Washington. The defense further objected to the fact that several members of the court were of inferior rank to Captain Reed. All these objections were overruled and the hearing of testimony was begun.

Mr. Shindler, manager of the Alhambria cigar factory, testified that in November Captain Reed had told him that Major George B. Davis, who was the depot commissary before Captain Reed, but who was sent to the United States on sick leave, and whose name appeared on the books of Evans & Co., government contractors at Manila, as the recipient of $1,000, was $2,000 short in his accounts. Continuing, Mr. Schindler testified that those having profitable contracts with the government were asked to assist in making good Major Davis' deficiency. Schindler gave Captain Reed $1,050, which was 2½ per cent commission on the cigars sold to the commissary department during the time that Major Davis was depot commissary at Manila.

An officer named Franklin, who was assistant commissary, testified to the effect that on March 18; and following the direction of a superior officer, he obtained $1,000 from Major Davis and paid this money over to Schindler.

Claimed Trying to Protect Davis.

Inspector General Garlington testified that during the preliminary investigation of the commissary scandals Captain Reed admitted to him recovering money from Schindler and others, and gave as an excuse that the money so recovered was intended to cover Major Davis' beef shortage.

Lieutenant Richard H. Townley, of the navy, at present superintendent of the Manila nautical school, testified that as the result of a conference with Captain Reed he went to see Castle Brothers, contractors, who supply the commissary department with vegetables, etc., and wanted them to give Captain Reed $2,000 and 10 per cent commission on all sales. Castle Brothers demurred to this proposition. Lieutenant Townley again went to Castle Brothers and this time only asked them for $2,000. Castle Brothers were reluctant to hand over this sum, and Lieutenant Townley explained that Captain Reed was in a position to advance the interests of the firm and that it would be advantageous to Castle Brothers to oblige him. Lieutenant Townley testified that he further explained to Castle Brothers that Captain Reed might allow them the use of government lighters, and possibly be less rigid in the inspection of goods purchased. Lieutenant Townley said that he thought Captain Reed was doing a noble thing in attempting to protect the character of a brother officer. He also said that such transactions wer not customary in the navy. When cross-questioned Lieutenant Townley said, rather sheepishly, that he was not so sure he was doing right in taking the witness chair.

Gave Same Reason to Woodruff.

Colonel Charles A. Woodruff, chief of the subsistence department in Manila, explained the circumstances of Captain Reed's appointment, and described the duties of the depot commissary, not knowing whether the accounts of Major Davis were correct or not. Colonel Woodruff explained that on Dec. 30 Castle Brothers aroused his suspicions by intimating that money was being collected by an officer of the commissary department. Later Colonel Woodruff sent for Captain Reed, who admitted receiving rebates for the purpose of covering the delinquencies of Major Davis. The testimony of Colonel Woodruff was unfinished at Monday's session and other witnesses were awaiting examination.

Lieutenant John W. Haussermann, of the Thirty-fourth infantry, is judge advocate of the court, and Major Thomas L. Hartigan, of the Thirtieth infantry, and Captain Charles H. Marple, of the Fortieth infantry, are teh attorneys for the defendants.

MRS. VAUGHN DIVORCED.

Cincinnati, April 30.—Mrs. Gertrude Vaughn was granted a divorce from Harry Vaughn, formerly a well-known baseball player. Sensational charges were made on both sides and the case was stubbornly contested. Mrs. Vaughn's character was vindicated, she was given the custody of her child and alimony, the amount to be determined later.

Vaughn declares he is a bankrupt, having spent much money on the divorce suit.

FOR ADJOURNMENT.

Pennsylvania House Votes For Committee to Propose May 23—Death of Calder Announced.

Harrisburg, April 30.—The order of business in the senate last night was the reading of bills the first time. There were 30 bills on the first reading calendar, and after they had all been passed the senate adjourned until this morning, about 10 o'clock being the time selected to meet.

A bill was introduced in the house last night by Mr. McClain, of Lancaster, to provide for the submission to the qualified electors at the next general election of the question of changing the location of the capital from Harrisburg to Lancaster.

Mr. Henderson, of Allegheny, introduced a bill to enable homeless or landless persons to purchase or appropriate at the assessed value any building lot, house and lot or farm not exceeding 200 acres, not personally occupied by the owner, empowering the courts to enforce the same after tender of the amount of such assessed value.

A resolution was offered by Mr. Harris, of Clearfield, that the Snyder oleomargarine bill be taken up on a special order for final passage at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The resolution carried by a vote of 98 to 36.

A resolution was offered by Mr. Myers, of Cumberland, and adopted, that a committee of three be appointed by the speaker for the purpose of meeting a similar committee to be appointed by the senate looking to the date of final adjournment on May 23. There were also other proceedings.

After clearing the calendar of first reading bills the death of Mr. Calder, of Dauphin, was formally announced by his colleague, Mr. Ulrich. Speaker Marshall appointed Messrs. Ulrich, Smythe, of Philadelphia; Hall, of Allegheny; Lack, Chester; McClain, Lancaster; Mertens, Erie; Koontz, Somerset; Ikeler, Columbia, and Mayne, Lehigh, a committee to arrange for memorial services in the hall of the house on the evening of May 8.

On motion of Mr. Seal, of Dauphin, the following committee was appointed to attend the funeral, after which the house adjourned out of respect to the deceased: Messrs. Ulrich, Seal, Rutherford, Dauphin, Chew and Fulmer, Philadelphia; Edwards, Bucks; Pomeroy, Franklin; Miller (W. C.), Bedford; Harris, Clearfield; Champaign, Tioga; Fox, Chester, Godcharles, Northumberland; Manning, Cumberland; Garvin, Adams, and Maloney, Venango.

Callahan Was Still In Jail.

Omaha, April 30.—James Callahan, tried and acquitted of the charge of complicity in the kidnaping of Eddie Cudahy, was still in jail, but his attorneys were preparing a showing which they believe will secure his freedom. They set forth that Callahan's liberty has already been put in jeopardy and that he was re-arrested on the same testimony and virtually the same charge as that upon which he had been tried and acquitted.

Why It Is Called Dutch Gap.

When Ben Butler was endeavoring to get the Union gunboats up the James, he found the water in the bend at Dutch Gap too shallow to let them pass, to say nothing of the fact that the Confederates had erected two or three batteries along the bend in order to give him a warm reception. So he went ahead and cut a canal across the neck and suddenly, instead of being 13 miles from Richmond, he was only six. Ever since that time the canal has been used, and the government now considers it the channel of the river and keeps it in shape. The plantations along the land were thus suddenly drained of their very lifeblood and have naturally fallen into decay.

The place is called Dutch Gap because at this spot, in early colonial days, a Dutchman worked a very smooth game upon the unsuspecting Indian. The Dutchman wagered the Indian that he could beat him paddling a canoe around the bend. The Indian took him up on the instant and gave him a mile the start. They started just above the bend, the Indian a mile behind, and when the Dutchman reached the neck he jumped on shore, grabbed his canoe out of the water, ran across to the other side with it, dropped it into the water again and calmly awaited the arrival of the astonished Indian, who had paddled frantically around the bend in the endeavor to catch up with him. What the wager was is not recorded, but the Dutchman doubtless got possession of 200,000 or 300,000 acres of land as a result of the trick.—Cor. Chicago Record.

Mr. Wm. Anderson, of 315 Lisbon street, says: "During the civil war I enlisted and served three years in the Forty-second Ohio infantry. From the exposure during the war I attribute the severe aching and weakness in the loins and muscular rheumatism of recent years which all seemed to center in my kidneys. In the morning when first getting up I was very dizzy until I had moved around for a time and my nervous system became affected causing a fluttering and fullness around the heart. Seeing an advertisement in the paper I got Doan's Kidney Pills at W. & W. pharmacy and took them. A few doses gave me relief. The improvement was gradual and continued as the medicine got more thoroughly into my system. I firmly believe that Doan's Kidney Pills will in every case, as they did in mine, prove the justness of the claims made for them."

SIGHTS FOR THE PRESIDENT.

The president has started on a journey of 10,000 miles—across the continent and back again, with detours here and there to points of interest. In all this long tour he will look everywhere upon a prosperous, contented people. The busy hum of industry will greet his ears at every stopping place. From the car windows he will see hundreds of manufactories in full blast and scores of new ones building. Thriving towns will be pointed out to him where, but a few years ago, only farmhouses or feeble hamlets stood. Each state that he enters, each city through which he passes, each agricultural community, even, along the route, will have its story of progress and prosperity to relate and will be found amply able to demonstrate by irrefutable evidence that the tale is no idle one.

Such sights as will meet the president's gaze, such evidences of progress and prosperity as now abound were non-existent in 1896 when William J. Bryan was prophesying industrial revolution and all manner of evil to come, and proposing a half-value silver dollar and his own wisdom as the only possible preventative, the only effectual cure. The revolution has come, but it has been a peaceful one. Money is plentiful, and it is not cheap money, either. McKinley and prosperity came into power together, and their sphere of influence has been expanding ever since. Gratifying indeed are the evidences of peace and plenty that abound. President and people cannot fail to contemplate them with satisfaction, and Republicans, who see a complete realization of their predictions, and the good fruitage of promises kept and of wise policies pursued have especial reasons for pride and thankfulness.

BRIGANDS FROM ITALY.

According to the statement of a leading newspaper of New York, America is being made the dumping ground for Italian criminals and paupers. It states that this fact has been forcibly called to the attention of the local authorities by the arrival of three noted brigands whose depredations made them a terror to the Italian province where they lived. Despairing of getting rid of them in any other way, the merchants upon whom they had preyed made up a liberal purse, with which the three were sent to America, arriving here with money enough in their pockets to enable them to land unquestioned. The three outlaws, who found no obstacle in the way of landing, are now said to be in Kansas City, where they are supposed to be maturing plans for a career of crime in the west.

The New York immigration commissioner says this is no isolated case, and we can readily believe him. Every populous community is supporting in jails, workhouses or almshouses men the expense of whose maintenance ought to fall upon some European government. We have all the paupers and criminals we need without importing any. Almost annually congress is asked and urged to pass more stringent immigration laws; and quite as reguarly it fails to do so. Nobody in this country is opposed to honest, industrious foreigners; we were all aliens not many generations back, and we should not lose light of the fact. But it is a fact which the criminal statistics of our country strongly emphasize that too many ignorant and vicious immigrants are allowed to enter our gates, not alone from Italy, but from other quarters of the globe. The bars should have been put up against all such long ago. We not only need more immigration laws, but a better enforcement of what we have.

AMERICAN FILIPINOS.

The Philippine islands cannot be so bad as they have been represented, either as regards climatic or other conditions. One of the regiments which recently returned to this country left two hundred of its members behind. They remained, not from necessity, but from choice, intending to engage in business. The average American soldier is wide-awake, enterprising and intelligent. A colony composed of such men will be an excellent thing for the islands. From all indications such colonies will soon become numerous. That means the spead of American ideas—a valuable possession in any country. The Filipinos, as all accounts agree, are quick to learn and eager to adopt the ways of the white man. Every good American who locates there is an agent for the advancement of civilization and progress. The fact that so many Americans see such possibilities in the islands as to induce them to become either temporary or permament residents there is an excellent augury of the speedy betterment of the conditions of the country and its people.

A Kansas dispatch soberly asserts that Carrie Nation is now believed to be insane. This may be deeply-veiled humor or it may be an evidence of slow ratiocination on the part of Grasshopper state people; anyway, it's not news in this part of the country.

It may be wise for Harvard to drop the practice of conferring degrees promiscuously, but it is very puerile and senseless to stop it just before reaching President McKinley's name. McKinley, as a Harvard LL. D., will be of more credit to the institution than hundreds of Harvard's own sons.

Senator McLaurin insists that the Democratic party as now conducted is an exponent of socialism and not Democratic at all. Other people have suspected as much, and the testimony of a prominent Democrat ought to be almost proof positive.

The South African war is only one of the causes which is forcing England to abandon free trade. The competition of America and Germany in the world's markets has been an equally potent influence.

Western farmers view the rise of the corn market with smiles of satisfaction. A few cents added to the bushel means for them the cancellation of mortgages and the purchase of pianos and top buggies.

NEARLY CAUGHT BY TRAIN

A CHESTER BOY'S NARROW ESCAPE ON A TRESTLE.

Only the Timely Shout of a Man Who Saw His Peril Saved Him.

Otis Jackson, aged 11 years, narrowly escaped being caught by a train on the trestle just below First street, Chester, this morning. The lad was about half way over the trestle and had not noticed the passenger train which was coming toward him and was only a very short distance from the opposite end of the trestle. The boy wore a cap which projected over his eyes and was watching closely where he stepped.

There is a very short curve in the track just below this point and the train is only in view a few minutes before it reaches the trestle. The engineer had evidently not noticed the boy ,as no alarm was sounded.

Enoch Riley, who happened to be passing, exercised his lungs in a most vigorous manner and the Jackson boy turned and ran rapidly back toward the other end of the trestle. Mr. Riley saw that the train was going to catch him, and shouted to him to jump, which he did. He was near the end of the trestle and it was only a few feet to the ground. He escaped with a bad scare and a good shaking up.

The contracting parties both reside in New Cumberland and are well and favorably known throughout the county.

NEWS OF THE POTTERIES.

An improvement is reported in the sanitary trade in Trenton.

The recently started Zanesville art pottery is said to be turning out some fine ware.

The Eureka Flint & Spar company, of Trenton, have recently received big orders for several carload lots of their superior flint and spar for East Liverpool.

A sanitary pottery with $25,000 capital stock desires to locate in Warren, O., and has made overtures to the citizens there to put up a plant. If the offer is accepted the company will double its capitalization.

Work is being rapidly pushed on the buildings being erected by the New Castle (Pa.) Pottery company. The largest building is up one story and work has been started on all the other buildings and is being pushed.

Joseph Martin, employed at the Equitable pottery, Trenton, has got a verdict for $4,500 damages against a railroad company. While on his way to work he was struck in the eye by a piece of brake shoe from a passing train. The case will be appealed.

The East Liverpool Pottery company lost its case at Lancaster, O., last week against the A. Bauman company. A consignment of ware sent the defendant was received with many pieces broken and the cost of the broken pieces amounting to $13 was refused payment, hence the suit.

POLITICAL MATTERS.

Hon. S. R. Peters, of Newton, Kan., who is touted as the successor of Pension Commissioner Evans, is an old Pickaway county boy, born in 1842. He is a graduate of Delaware university, and served through the war as a member of the Seventy-third regiment, O. V. I., coming out of the service as captain. He went to Kansas following the war. He was a member of the state senate, judge of the Ninth judicial district and was three times elected to the difficult position without opposition. In 1883 he was elected at large to the Forty-eighth congress. In 1890 he declined further congressional honors, preferring to practice his profession. Judge Peters is now postmaster at Newton and editor of the Kansas Republican.

Mayor Andrew Werley, of New Riegel, is serving his sixth term as chief magistrate of that village. He was the first postmaster and the first mayor the village ever had and served in the latter position for three successive terms and then declined further honors. After an interval the people clamored for him to accept the office again, and after much persuasion he did so. New Riegel, for some years, had only one Republican voter.

The coming campaign will have more than the usual interest on account of the election of a legislature charged with the responsibility of naming the successor to Senator Foraker, and the further fact that two of the Democratic millionaires of the state, John R. McLean and Tom L. Johnson, are likely to be aspirants for the Democratic caucus nomination, in case of the election of a Democratic majority on joint ballot.

Governor Nash has suspended the operation of a law requiring assessors, this year, to obtain a list of all persons within their jurisdiction available for military service. This is required every five years unless the governor deems it unnecessary, which he does at this time.

James L. Holden, the recently elected Democratic mayor of Zanesville, has announced that he was elected by the liberal people of the town and he will permit gambling.

MINERS' DISSATISFIED.

Talk of a Strike Indulged by the Clay Diggers at Walkers'.

The miners' union at Walkers' gave notice to Matthew Myers, the manager of the claybanks, that unless he complied with demands recently made by them they would go on a strike Wednesday morning. They claim he has failed to comply with the agreement made at the recent strike, in that he has failed to provide a means of hauling the clay out of the bank.

The men asked that a mule be provided, and say he agreed to their request; that he also agreed to pay them one cent extra per ton and that this agreement has not been kept.

The men think a strike will be averted, as they say the company has closed contracts that will keep it busy for more than a year.

Cyclists' Summer Tour.

The West End Cycling club has just completed arrangements for its annual tour. The club will leave here on July 5, and will take in Cleveland, Detroit, Dayton and Cincinnati, returning home by way of the river route. The present plans do not include the Pan-American Exposition, but it is thought that arrangements will be made later to include it in the itinerary.

AT THE WEST END.

Adison Gasnay, of Smithfield, is visiting at the home of D. F. McGhie.

The Missess Maude Canley and Mary Briar spent Sunday visiting friends at Salineville.

A number of the West End Pottery boys attended the league game at Pittsburg yesterday.

Mrs. John Murphy, of Lisbon street, who has been ill for some time, is now somewhat improved.

D. F. McGhie has decided to sell his business in the West End. He runs a feed store. He expects to close a deal, now pending, by the last of the week.

STEEL PROMINENT.

Union Pacific and Northern Pacific Also Lead Well In Market Monday.

New York, April 30.—If there were any doubts entertained that the speculative advance might be interrupted after the holiday interval they were dispelled within five minutes after the trading opened Monday in the new temporary quarters of the Stock Exchange. The first transactions demonstrated the leading position of the United States Steel stocks, Union Pacific and Northern Pacific in the speculative situation, and that leadership was unaffected during the whole of the day. There was great activity and some striking strength shown by a number of other stocks, but they paled into insignificance in comparison with the furious activity and extraordinary price changes in the leaders. Often during the day there were strips of several feet of ticker tape which recorded successive transactions in one or the other of these stocks, with not a single block of less than a thousand shares in the series, and running up to 8,000 shares. The extreme advance in Union Pacific extended to 12¼ in the late afternoon and in Northern Pacific to 10¾. United States steel stocks did not show such wide fluctuations as is natural from the much greater volume of the company's total capitalization. Nevertheless the common stock achieved an extreme advance of 3¾ and the preferred of 2¾ and held more firmly than almost any other stocks in the list. There were some very striking gains among the grangers, Pacifics and trunk lines, but these seemed to be associated in the minds of the buyers with the movement in Union Pacific. Rock Island was at one time 6¾ over Friday, St. Paul 4⅜, New York Central 5, Pennsylvania 3⅛, Baltimore and Ohio 3, Illinois Central 3½, St. Louis and San Francisco second preferred 3¾ and a number of other related stocks from 2 to 3 points. Colorado Fuel rose 8 points and Amalgamated Copper 3⅛. If these stocks are set apart it will be found that the dealings elsewhere and the movement of prices otherwise were not sensational. But contemplating these special price movements and the volume of dealings in the stocks enumerated one has compared the salient facts of the extraordinary market of the day. There was no specific news to account for the unprecedented dealings which lifted the day's record to 2,760,000 shares. As the vital point of the speculation is the money supply, the increase in surplus reserves shown by Saturday's bank statement was a favorable factor. The large gain in cash was noted with especial satisfaction as reflecting the continued inflow of funds to New York. Much store is placed also in the government interest disbursements to be made on May 1, and large corporation dividend payments are also counted upon for help to the money situation. The reliance placed on these factors was made evident by the small momentary effect of the engagement of $1,750,000 in gold for export and the opinion of exchange exports that probably $5,000,000 might go out during the week. There was some doubt as to the destination of the gold, but that it would go to the continent and not to London seemed evident. The additional engagement of $1,000,000 for London was unknown until after the close.

Beating an Avalanche.

One of the most exciting Alpine adventures on record was Mr. Tuckett's race with an avalanche on the Eiger glacier in 1871. He was ascending the glacier with two friends and a guide. Says Travel:

The glacier sloped somewhat steeply, and on the upper part, above the climbers, a mass of loose, freshly fallen snow had collected. Suddenly the travelers heard a thundering noise and perceived a huge mass of snow and ice sliding down toward them. They could only try to reach the rocks at the side of the glacier, hoping to do so before the avalanche should sweep them away. Through the knee deep snow they ran for their lives.

"I remember," said Mr. Tuckett, "being struck with the idea that it seemed as if the avalanche were sure of its prey and wished to play with us for awhile. At one moment it let us imagine that we had gained on it, and the next, with mere wantonness of vindictive power, it suddenly rolled out a vast volume of grinding blocks and whirling snow, as if to show us that it could outflank us any moment it chose.

"Nearer and nearer it came, its front a mighty wave about to break. It aimed straight at us, swift, deadly, implacable. The next instant we saw no more. A wild confusion of whirling snow and fragments of ice, a frozen cloud, swept over us, entirely concealing us from one another. But still we were untouched, and still we ran.

"Another half second, and the mist parted. There lay the body of the monster, whose head was still careering away at lightning speed far below us, motionless, rigid, harmless."

Washington's High Priced Shad.

Washington's steward was a man named Fraunces, who liked good living and with whom Washington continually quarreled about the marketing. One time he bought a shad in February, and as Washington saw it coming into the dining room he was charmed and asked what fish it was.

"It is a shad," replied the steward; "a very fine shad. It was the only one in the market, and I bought it for you."

"But what did you pay for it?" said Washington sternly.

"It is a very fine shad," continued the steward, "and it is cooked to a turn."

"But I want to know the price—the price!"

"It cost $3," stammered out Fraunces.

"Take it away," said Washington as he raised his hand; "take it away. It shall never be said that I set such an example of luxury and extravagance."

And with that he drove the steward out of the room and the shad was eaten in the servants' kitchen.

CORDIAL RECEPTIONS

Given to President McKinley at the Outset of His Trip to the West.

MRS. M'KINLEY'S ENJOYMENT

She Was Not Feeling Particularly Well When the Start Was Made, but Was Improved Later On—Enthusiasm In Virginia.

Wytheville, Va., April 30.—The president and his party will keep in close touch with Washington throughout the trip to California. The railroad officials in charge of the train and the various divisions over which it passed took precautions to guard against the possibility of mishaps. The track, switches and bridges were all carefully inspected before the train reached a given station, everything on the road, passenger as well as freight, was sidetracked, and over the Norfolk Western railroad a pilot train ran ahead of the presidential special. Train crews on the sidetracks lined up and uncovered as the chief magistrate went by. Members of the party enjoyed the first day of their trip, and the president expressed his gratification over the receptions he had received. Mrs. McKinley, who was not feeling particularly well when the train started, became better as the day progressed, and last night said she had enjoyed it very much. Today, it was expected, the train will make brief stops at Huntsville, Decatur and Tuscumbia, Ala,, and Corinth, Miss.

Memphis, where the party will remain until midnight, it was expected, will be reached about 4:30 p. m.

Enthusiastic at Charloottesville.

Charlottesville, Va., April 30.—The presidential train, with a tiny flag on the pilot of the engine denoting that the chief magistrate of the nation was on board, arrived at Charlottesville on schedule time. The run from Washington was made without incident. A brief stop was made at Alenandria. A big crowd had assembled at the station there and the president and Mrs. McKinley appeared upon the platform to acknowledge salutes. Speeding through Virginia to this town, famous as the seat of the University of Virginia, and the nome of Jefferson, people gathered at every town, village and cross roads to see the train go by. At Manassas, Culpepper and Orange the crowds were especially large. At the last place a large American flag flew from the staff in the national cemetery where are buried many of the Union dead. At Charlottesville there was an immense assemblage at the station. The students from the university lined up alongside of the train and gave the president three rousing cheers and a tiger when he made his appearance. From the platform of his car the president spoke as follows:

"It gives me very great pleasure to receive the greeting of the people of Charlottesville and the cheers of the young men of the University of Virginia (applause). Your institution is linked with great names and great deeds, and has influenced both (applause). What an array of immortal names Virginia holds in her keeping to remind us of lofty patriotism, broad statesmanship and noble achievements. (Applause.) To no other state of the American Union belongs such history to preserve and cherish and such examples to inspire and emulate. (Great applause.) May the young men of Virginia prove worthy sons of their noble ancestors and contribute in the future, as they did in the past, to the well being and honor and glory of the republic. (Great Applause.) Let me assure you, young gentlemen, that the present and the future hold rich reward for good scholarship, high character and noble endeavor, and the wish which I leave with you is that of these you may have your full share." (Prolonged applause.)

There were calls for Secretary Hay, but his only response was to introduce Postmaster General Smith, who said:

Postmaster General Spoke.

"This seems hardly a kindly service to be performed by the latest secretary of state in the home of the first great secretary of state of the United States. (Great applause.) The present secretary worthily perpetuates the literary fame and the statesmanlike achievements of the first great secretary, who lived here and planned this University of Virginia. (Great applause.) I recall that for many years the chief officer in my department of the public service in the city of Charlottesville was a noble woman, the daughter of a Union officer, and the wife of a Confederate officer. (Great applause.) She was first appointed by General Grant, and when in the early years of the first administration of President McKinley the suggestion was made of a change, he answered: 'No, I will remove no one appointed by General Grant, who preserves such memories.'" (Great applause.)

Mr. Smith's reference was to Mrs. Long, who was appointed postmistress of Charlottesville by General Grant. She was the daughter of General Sumner, of the Union army, and widow of General Long, of the Confederate army. Mrs. Long died some months ago.

In the city of Lynchburg, the home of Senator Daniel, there was a stop of about 10 minutes. Senator Daniel, Mayor G. W. Smith, members of the board of trade, and city council and a great crowd greeted the party with old-fashioned Virginia enthusiasm.

Senator Daniel made a speech of welcome to which the president responded.

The president said:

"I am very glad not only to meet the people of the city of Lynchburg, but to be presented by your distinguished senator. (Aplause.) It is a matter of no public interest, but only one of pure personal recollection that the first time I ever tried to come to Lynchburg I did not succeed. (Laughter.) I came here with a number of other gentlemen who sought entrance, but the gates were closed. (Laughter.) We could not open them, and you would not. (Laughter.) And so we departed to seek another host, if not more hospitable, less formidable than the one that greeted us here. (Laughter.) It is a happy time for me to come to Lynchburg now—the war over, no exchange of greetings with shot and shell, as then, but with the friendly welcome of all the people which typefies the respect and regard and good will which subsists between all sections of our common country." (Great Applause.)

CUBANS PLEASED.

Gratified With Their Mission to Washington—Probably Independence In February.

New York, April 30.—"Even annexation might be acceptable to Cuba, if it came after independence," said Dr. Rafael M. Portuondo, one of the members of the delegation from the Cuban national convention to Washington. "For 50 years she has longed and fought and bled for independence. That once attained she would agree to any fair demands the United States would make."

Gratified with the outcome of their mission, the delegates who have been in conference with President McKinley and Secretary of War Root arrived in New York. In the party are General Portuondo, General P. Bancourt, Dr. Pedro Gonzales Llorente, Dr. Diego Tamapo and Dr. D. Mendez Capote, the president of the convention.

General Portuondo was eloquent in his expressions of satisfaction with the result of the mission to Washington. "There was a misunderstanding," he said, "and now, for us at least, it has all been cleared. The trouble was with the Platt amendment. Many of the Cubans suspected it. They did not know what it meant. They doubted the motive that lay behind it. Not that they thought it might be unfair to Cuba only, but to the United States. The explanation given to us at Washington is plain and dispels our doubts. None of us can now question the honesty or impugn the fairmindedness of the senate. To be sure, there are terms about the amendment which cannot be adopted, but I think a great deal has been accomplished."

Asked how long it would take to establish a Cuban government, General Portuondo replied: "Not less than 10 months. There must be conventions and elections before the electoral council which chooses a president is selected. That will all take time, and I think we shall feel satisfied if our government is set in motion by Feb. 24 of next year. That, you know, is our Fourth of July, the anniversary of our rise against Spain. Our electoral body will be made up equally of representatives from the professional men, the wealthy citizens and provincial assemblies. The president must be a native Cuban or one who has fought 10 years for Cuban independence. A senator must be a native, but a representative may be a native or a naturalized citizen."

MAGNIFICENT GIFT.

Steubenville's $35,000 Hospital, Donated by Hon. J. J. Gill, Is Now Open.

Steubenville, April 30.—This afternoon and evening the new hospital building in Steubenville will be thrown open to the public, who are invited to inspect the building. The ladies of the Hospital association will be present to receive all visitors. No donations will be asked, but if any desire to make donations they will be gladly received.

That Steubenville possesses a hospital building of such size and magnificence, fitted out with all the convenience of a modern hospital, is due to the munificence and philanthropic liberality of Hon. J. J. Gill. In making this gift to the people, it was believed to be a much needed institution, and Mr. Gill imposed no provision, but he has erected and equipped the hospital at a cost to himself of about $35,000, and now that it is built it devolves on the people to maintain what has been given with such liberality.

Mr. Gill feels sure that it will be maintained, and his faith in the generosity of the people will be met with proper response in this regard.

He'd Have a Great Thirst.

When 35 years ago Lord Methuen joined the Scots Fusileer guards, now Scots guards, as a subaltern, he was well liked by the privates, although he was a trifle strict in the matter of enforcing discipline, says the Chicago Times-Herald. Lieutenant Methuen had the reputation of making very caustic remarks. The following is one of the best: In the lieutenant's company was a tall, handsome soldier who had but one failing—he could never keep sober. Otherwise he was an excellent soldier. One day, after he had received punishment in the orderly room for the offense of drunkenness, Lieutenant Methuen, who took an interest in the toper, severely remonstrated with him concerning his infirmity.

The man shook his head and replied: "Sir, I can't help it. I'll never be sober until the breath is out of my body."

With a smile Lieutenant Methuen retorted, "Ah, but when the breath is out of your body, then, I'm afraid, you'll have the greatest possible justification for being thirsty!"

Cured.

"No," said the man in the mackintosh, "my wife doesn't give away any of my old clothes or sell them to the ragman any more. I cured that habit effectually once."

"How was that?" they asked him.

"When I found that she had disposed of a coat I hadn't worn for several weeks, I told her there was a letter in it she had given me to mail the last time I had it on. And that was no lie either," he added with deep satisfaction.—Chicago Tribune.

THE NEW MODERATOR

Presbyterians Campaigning on a Head For the General Assembly.

TWO CANDIDATES IN CALIFORNIA

One of them is Dr. John W. Dinsmore, Formerly of Washington County, Pa.—Movements For Revs. Drs. Kumler and Purves.

Pittsburg, April 30.—The campaign for the moderatorship of the Presbyterian general assembly, which is to meet in Philadelphia May 16, is now in vigorous progress.

The hardest work is being done in California, as it is conceded that the man who can come to Philadelphia with a solid Pacific coast to back him will carry off the highest honor of the church. According to the datest reports Rev. Henry Collin Minton, of San Francisco, is in the lead.

Rev. Dr. John W. Dinsmore, an old Washington county man, has also come out as a candidate and will be backed up by Elder David Jack, a millionaire ranchman of Monterey. All the California commissioners but one are pledged to support Dr. Minton, but Dr. Dinsmore has much strength all over the church.

This double-header from California has encouraged several eastern men to put in their oars for their favorite candidates in the east. One of the strongest men named recently is Rev. Dr. George T. Purves, pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church New York city, and for years the very popular pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city. Another eastern candidate is Rev. Dr. ohn Dewitt, of Princeton Theological seminary. He has been the pastor of several large and influential churches and was once pastor of the Third Presbyterian church of Pittsburg.

Rev. Dr. Jeremiah P. E. Kumler, lately closed his 17 years' pastorate in the East Liberty Presbyterian church, is put forward by many friends.

BEET SUGAR INDUSTRY.

Active Tendency Toward Establishment of New Enterprises—Reported Condition of Industry.

Washington, April 30.—C. F. Saylor, of Iowa, the special agent in charge of the beet sugar investigation of the department of agriculture, was in Washington and submitted his report to Secretary Wilson. He said this year showed a very active tendency toward the institution of new beet sugar enterprises. Next autumn, he said, Michigan will have three new factories, and Ohio, Indiana, New York, Colorado, Utah, South and North Dakota and Illinois will instal new factory enterprises, making 13 throughout the United States now in contemplation. A conservative estimate, he said, was that there will be 42 beet sugar factories in operation throughout the United States by the end of next autumn. Everything indicated that the industry was thoroughly established throughout the country. Mr. Saylor said:

"Even in the incipiency of the industry these factories have shown good profits. They have maintained themselves without any apparent real contest with the sugar trust. The sections of the country that seem most adaptable to the industry are where conditions call for new resources, as in Michigan, where there has been a phenomenal increase in the last three years, largely due to the waning of the lumbering industry of that region. There will be 14 factories there next season. California is the leading state in production, with eight factories, including the largest in the world. The immense amount of pulp and refuse left after the extraction of the sugar appeals especially to the farmer and the corollary industries that grow out of farm products." Mr. Saylor says no other feed is so valuable and cheap for the dairy and stock feeding interests as beet pulp. These factories turn out from 45 to 50 per cent of the original weight of the beets worked in the form of the refuse or by-products. Sugar beet seems to respond especially to cultivation in the arid region, where they have given better results than in any other crop. The arid section has been enabled to cope with other sections of the country where the crops have been produced by natural rainfall, not only in the amount of tonnage per acre, but in the higher sugar contents and the purity of the beet. The results in Utah have demonstrated the feasibility of the central plant idea, with branches scattered at numerous points for performing some detailed parts of the work."

FAMILY OF EIGHT MISSING.

Farm Residence, Barn and Buildings Found Burned.

Brookville, Ind., April 30.—The farm residence, barn and all buildings belonging to Joseph Horn burned to the ground and the family cannot be found. The family consisted of Horn, his wife and five children. Already the bodies of the horses are visible in the embers of the barn, but the fire was still too hot to determine if the bodies of the members of the family were buried under the debris of the residence. Every effort was being made to find members of the family in the neighborhood, but as yet they have been unsuccesful, and it is believed that all perished in the flames.

Six years ago Horn's house and outbuildings burned while he was away on business with his family at the county seat.

LEFT HER HOME.

A Salem Girl Disappears After Being Chided Regarding Her Beaux.

Salem, April 30.—Miss Annie Moff, one of the most beautiful girls in the city, left home Saturday and her parents are almost distracted.

The girl's parents are quite well to do. The girl, who is not over 16 years of age, is well developed and looks to be 18 or 19 years old. She had a host of admirers, and lately a young man has been paying attention to her. One night she kept company with him until 12 o'clock. Being so young, this made her parents a little angry and she received a calling down.

She Had Waited For It.

He (about to ask for a kiss)—I have an important question to ask you.

She (playfully)—I know what it is, George. You want me to be your wife. Well, take me.

He (rather taken aback)—This is somewhat sudden, isn't it?

She (tenderly)—I don't know, George, whether it is sudden for you or not, but

At Red Oak, Ia., Pluma Nordquist, the 12-year-old daughter of S. C. Nordquist, was dragged about half a mile by a runaway pony, with her foot fast in the stirrup. She was dead when found.

At Fond du Lac, Wis., Israel Raymond, watchman at the Guerney refrigerator factory, was burned to death in the fire which destroyed that establishment. The property loss is $150,000, partially insured.

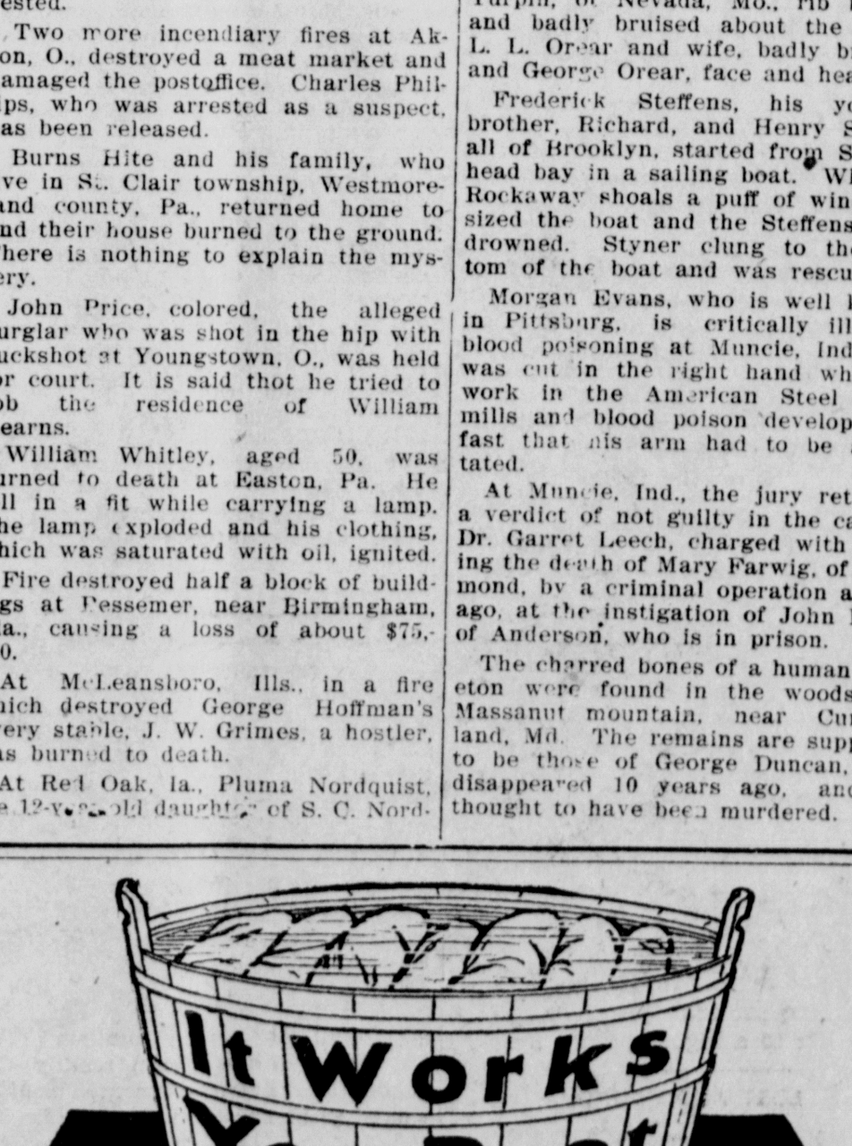

At Pattonsburg, Mo., a passenger train on the Omaha, Kansas City and eastern road was wrecked, injuring three passengers. They are L. H. Turpin, of Nevada, Mo., rib broken and badly bruised about the body; L. L. Orear and wife, badly bruised, and George Orear, face and head cut.

Frederick Steffens, his younger brother, Richard, and Henry Styner, all of Brooklyn, started from Sheepshead bay in a sailing boat. When at Rockaway shoals a puff of wind capsized the boat and the Steffens were drowned. Styner clung to the bottom of the boat and was rescued.

Morgan Evans, who is well known in Pittsburg, is critically ill with blood poisoning at Muncie, Ind. He was cut in the right hand while at work in the American Steel Hoop mills and blood poison developed so fast that his arm had to be amputated.

At Muncie, Ind., the jury returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of Dr. Garret Leech, charged with causing the death of Mary Farwig, of Richmond, by a criminal operation a year ago, at the instigation of John Diehl, of Anderson, who is in prison.

The charred bones of a human skeleton were found in the woods on Massanut mountain, near Cumberland, Md. The remains are supposed to be those of George Duncan, who disappeared 10 years ago, and is thought to have been murdered.

The new woman's way to save work in washing, and also save the clothes, is to use Walker's Soap, as follows:

Dip the clothes in lukewarm water, then soap each piece thoroughly, roll in a tight roll, place in a tub and cover with lukewarm water, allowing them to remain half an hour. During this time the soap will do its work. Then wring out, rinse out and hang out to dry.

WALKER'S SOAP

Is a good soap. Contains no alkali

That is why clothes washed with it last longest. Look for the Game Rooster trademark.

THE ST. LOUIS FAIR.

If St. Louis got her $5,000,000 fair appropriation under false pretenses, as is charged, congress should take the grant away, and a movement is on foot to do it.—Buffalo News.

St. Louis will probably not worry greatly over the report that when congress meets next December the law appropriating $5,000,000 for the proposed World's fair at the Mound City is to be repealed on the ground that the fair, which it understood should be held in 1903, is not to take place until a year later. Chicago, it will be remembered, had a similar postponement for a year, and the determination proved a wise one.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

ICE THIS YEAR AT OLD RATES

Less Than the Usual Quantity of the Natural Product Was Harvested.

CONSUMERS ARE FORTUNATE

The Dealers Say, People Getting Their Supply at a Lower Rate Than in Neighboring Cities—An Agreement Forbids Any Cut in Prices.

The quantity of ice harvested in East Liverpool this year was not as large as in former seasons, and the probabilities are that the consumer will be entirely dependent upon the output of the Crockery City company before the season ends.

The Andrews company, who handle the natural article, have put up between 1,200 and 1,500 tons, while the Reed concern in California Hollow has a supply scarcely less than that.

The ice men say the consumers of this city are very fortunate in being able to secure the low rates charged here. They claim we pay less for ice in this city than in any part of the surrounding towns and cities, and that it would be impossible for them to furnish it at a lower figure and make anything in the way of profit.

There is an agreement between the three companies whereby a uniform price is paid, and the rate depends upon the business engaged in or the quantity used. Saloons and retail stores are furnished with ice at 25 cents per 100 pounds, which is five cents less than is charged in Youngstown and Canton and 10 cents less than Pittsburg's price.

Butchers, who use the ice in much larger quantities than any other class of merchants, are supplied at a 20-cent rate. The companies have no trade in the wholesale line to speak of, although the Crockery City people furnish large quantities to the trade in Wellsville. With the present facilities of the company it would be impossible to supply more than they now turn out during the busy season.

Inquiry deevloped that the crop this year is greater and of a better quality than it was last year. The amount of ice that has been stored will amount to some 2,500 tons. None of this has been cut on the river, except that put up by private individuals for their own consumption.

BACK IN JAIL AGAIN.

FEDERISH WILL LIKELY HAVE TO ANSWER IN COURT.

He Is Charged With Assault With Intent to Kill—Bondsmen Give Him Up.

The bondsmen of John Fedorisin, otherwise known as Federish, have refused to continue on the bond and yesterday he was delivered to the authorities. He is now in jail.

The charge against him is that of assault with intent to kill, and he will likely be sent to Lisbon to await the action of the grand jury. At least this was the advice of Prosecutor Brookes.

Mike Baile, whom Fedorisin assaulted several weeks ago, is able to be out and was up town this morning. An effort is being made by defendant's attorney, H. E. Grosshans, to have the matter disposed of here, but it is thought the prisoner will be compelled to answer to a higher court.

LOST AND FOUND.

I lost a maiden long ago;
Last night I thought I'd found her,
And as my loyal heart's one queen
I quietly recrowned her.

'Twould not be truth to say she seemed
Untouched by time, since fairer
E'en than of old I found her face,
The roses in it rarer.

Her halo had more golden grown,
While locks once hyacinthine
Upon my own poor pate, alas,
For many a year have been thin!

The eyes—whose shafts the little god
Employed to overcome me—
Shone brighter. Smiles were on the lips
Whose "No" did once benumb me.

My heart beat high with hope, but when
I spoke her name another
Who stood beside the maid replied,
The maiden called her "Mother."

The matron smiled on me. I dared
Not tell her that I'd sought her
Through long and weary years, at last
To find her—in her daughter!

Character Told by Lips.

"Whether or not we believe in phrenology, physiognomy and kindred sciences, there are some peculiarities of feature that are quite often indicative of certain traits of character," said an observant man. "From no one feature of the face can the disposition be more accurately read than from the lips and especially the upper lip. The lower one is less prophetic.

"A person with a short, sharply curved upper lip is nearly always of a happy, lovable disposition. One with a short but straight upper lip is apt to be of a low order of intellect and coarse in his tastes. The person with a long, straight upper lip is the one to beware of. He has a will like adamant, is not always thoroughly trustworthy, is apt to be quarrelsome and jealous and is more often than not an unmitigated politician. If he is gifted with a strong intellect, he will make his mark in one way or another; if he is not, he may become a harmless person, a parasite or a scoundrel. The man whose upper lip protrudes is apt to be a shrewd business man.

"The person whose mouth has a decided droop at the corners may be a humorist, a hypochondriac or a poet. The possessor of a mouth curved in the style of Cupid's bow is indeed happy, for in nine cases out of ten he also possesses a refined, aesthetic and yet practical nature, susceptible to every beautiful and ennobling influence."—Chicago Record.

Old Fashioned Cancer Cure.

Take the common sheep sorrel which grows in your yard and which children eat because of its sourness, mash it up into a pulp in some vessel that will save all the juice that would otherwise be lost, then put it into a bag and squeeze out all the juice on to a pewter plate to get some of the acid from the metal, then put this out in the sun and let it dry until about as thick as tar, then put in tight bottle. If the skin is not broken, put a drop of chloride of potash or lye on it to break the skin and then apply the sorrel on the cancer, just covering it with a thin coat. If the sorrel gets too thick, a little water will make it so that it can be handled.

The pain will be severe, but it is otherwise harmless. It will stop hurting in a few hours. Keep up these applications, one every day, until the cancer can be lifted out without pain. It took four days in my case. The sorrel will cook the cancer, but it does not eat it as it does the flesh, hence it eats all the flesh away and lets the cancer loose. When you see the cancer, put the sorrel on it and not on the flesh. When the cancer is out, heal the sore with any kind of healing ointment.—J. A. Wayland in Appeal to Reason.

Bury Their Lepers Alive.

The Chinese have a curiously cheerful way of disposing of their lepers. The relatives of the afflicted person propose to him that they bury him alive, and, such is the fatalism of the Chinese, that the victim readily consents. An extra elaborate meal is served to him in the way of a farewell banquet, and then the funeral procession forms. The man who is about to be immured under the sod follows his own coffin, and when he reaches the grave he takes a dose of laudanum, hops into the box and settles down for eternity.

Dr. Wittenberg, writing on the subject of leprosy in China, states that the pure nerve form is the least common. In such cases, as is well known, the patients may go on for years. As to the mixed form, it is fairly common, but it is a difficult matter to estimate the number of lepers in any given district. The sufferers lead the common life so long as they remain free from destructive lesions. When these occur to any marked degree, the leper is either segregated in a hut or he is allowed to wander about the country, sustaining life by begging. Dr. Wittenberg records cases of direct contagion from mother-in-law to daughter-in-law.

A Criminal.

A friend of mine, the minister of a west end chapel in London, tells how, in his last visit to America, he preached in one of the larger jails and after the service visited some of the prisoners in their cells. One case interested him especially, a man of good education and address and seemingly of abilities fitted to command success in the world. My friend gave vent to his sincere distress at finding such a man in such a position and was going on to "improve the occasion" when the prisoner cut in with the remark that he believed in England we were fond of fox hunting.

My friend, regarding it as a broad hint to change the subject, assented.

"And may I ask," said his companion, "when a man gets a fall, does he give up hunting?" And on getting the only possible answer to such a question he added, "I have had a bad fall, and no mistake, but I count on better luck another time."

This case is thoroughly typical. The true professional is not a weak creature who yields to uncontrollable impulse. Loving a life of adventure and having a soul above working for his living, he pursues a life of crime with a full appreciation of its risks. Change those risks to certainties, and you at once supply a motive adequate to influence his course. If every fox hunter ended by breaking his neck, fox hunting would be shunned, save by a few desperate men, and the same would be true of professional crime of this character if it always ended in disaster.—Nineteenth Century.

Worked the Passengers.

An amusing scene was witnessed one day on one of the mail boats running from Calais to Dover. The sea was rather rough. A young woman, pretty and nicely dressed, appeared to be suddenly taken very ill with seasickness. She groaned and screamed in apparent agony for some little time.

At length a person who appeared to be a stranger to her approached and asked whether she would like to take a lozenge, which he guaranteed would ease her pain. He had often tried it, he said, on people and always with the most marvelous results. The young lady demurred a little at first, but finally accepted the offer. Never was cure so instantaneous. Hardly had she swallowed the lozenge than the fair patient was sitting up all smiles and ordering ham sandwiches of the steward.

Some passengers were so struck with the incident that they inquired what was the remedy that had had such a wonderful result, and the gentleman, who, as he said, was the agent for the sale of the lozenges, disposed of a considerable number of boxes of them at 10 francs apiece. What was the surprise of the purchasers when they saw the young lady and her preserver go off arm in arm on the vessel reaching Dover! The boxes contained common jujubes.—London Telegraph.

An Officious Sexton.

There is an Irish clergyman of our acquaintance who has deservedly a considerable local reputation as a wit and story teller. He sees everything from the humorous side. His appearance, his voice and manner are all mirth provoking, especially his laugh. The present writer heard him speak lately of his sexton, who appears to be an original. A lady, a stranger to the place, asked him if there were daily matins in the church. "No, madam," he replied, "we can't afford that, but we put down cocoanut every Sunday."

This official is close at hand at all baptisms and marriages and instinctively answers all the questions asked of sponsors and couples being married, so that the rector says he is godfather to innumerable children and has married himself to a considerable number of brides, for when the question is put, "Wilt thou have this woman to be thy wedded wife?" he always audibly answers, "I will." It may be truly said "this is very Irish," for so it is. Indeed, we have been told of a case in which a young lady about to be married in the church which this sexton serves made it a proviso that he should be charged to keep his distance during the ceremony.—Exchange.

Abolition of the Ducking Stool.

The most noteworthy of all the instruments designed for the correction of Eve's offending daughters was the ducking stool, known as the tumbrel and the trebuchet. A post, across which was a transverse beam turning on a swivel and with a chair at one end was set up on the edge of a pond. Into the chair the woman was chained, turned toward the water—a muddy or filthy pond was usually chosen for this purpose when available—and ducked half a dozen times or, if the water inflamed her instead of acting as a damper, she was let down times innumerable until she was exhausted and well nigh drowned.

From the frequency with which we find it mentioned in old local and county histories, in church wardens' and chamberlains' accounts and by the poets (Gay, for one, has a description of the process in his third pastoral, "The Shepherd's Week") we shall probably not be wrong in concluding that at one time this institution was kept up all over the country. In Liverpool, according to The Gentleman's Magazine for 1803, it was not formally abolished until 1776.—London Graphic.

A Fine Distinction.

A young down town drug clerk who had heard the story of the colored woman who had asked for flesh colored court plaster and was given black by the observant dealer stored the incident away in his mental dust box and decided to use it at the first opportunity. He had not long to wait, for a few nights ago a comely colored girl stepped into the store where he was employed. "Ah wants some cou't plaster," she said.

"What color?" inquired the clerk, with affected nonchalance.

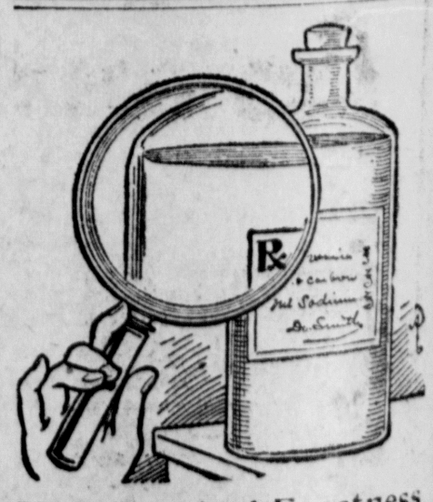

"Flesh cullah, sah."

Trembling in his shoes and keeping within easy reach of a heavy pestle, the clerk handed the woman a box of black court plaster, and he was surprised at the time that the situation afforded so little humor. The woman opened the box with a deliberation that was ominous, but she was unruffled when she noted the color of the contents.

"Ah guess yo' mus' a-misunderstood mah ordah. Ah asked foh flesh cullah, and yo' done give me skin cullah."

The drug clerk is still a little dazed from the encounter, and he has firmly resolved to subject every joke to rigid laboratory test hereafter before using.—Pittsburg News.

MOTTOES OF STATES

Questions Schoolboys Can Answer Which Puzzle Older People's Heads.

UNCLE SAM'S GREAT SEAL

It Was Designed by An Englishman, Who Also Suggested the National Motto, "Epluribus Unum"—Ablest Statesmen Appealed to in Vain.

If you desire to have fun with a learned acquaintance, ask him simple questions about his country, its history, financial condition, political divisions, geographical lines, climatology, topography, etc. Questions that any schoolboy can answer Dr. Knowall will stumble clumsily over, often getting a bad fall. There is one question that I have never heard any one answer—namely, "What are the mottoes of the several states of the Union and their meaning?" A clever man may name that of his own state and guess at those of three or four of the more important sister states, but he is unlikely to know the meanings of any that are in the original Latin. Try some able professor in a crowd and see him flounder.

Ask the professor if he knows that the great seal of the United States was designed by an Englishman, Sir John Prestwich, who also suggested the motto, "E Pluribus Unum?" Our ablest men had failed to propose anything acceptable, Franklin, Jefferson, Adams, Lovell, Scott, Houston and others wasting nearly four years on the task. Franklin proposed Moses dividing the Red sea with this motto, "Rebellion to Tyrants Is Obedience to God;" Adams proposed the choice of Hercules and Jefferson the children of Israel in the wilderness. Doesn't it seem funny? Some of the suggested mottoes were "Bello vel Pace" (For War or Peace), "Semper" (Forever), "Deo Favente" (With God's Favor), "Virtus Sola Invicta" (Virtue Alone Invincible), etc. After six years the Englishman's device was adopted, and it yet remains the arms of the United States.

If the professor is familiar with the obverse of the great seal, ask him what he has to say of the reverse, and the chances are 100 to 1 that he cannot recollect the unfinished pyramid, the eye in the triangle, the glory proper, the motto over the eye, "Annuit Cœptis" (God Has Favored the Undertaking), and that under all, "Novus Ordo Seculorum" (A New Series of Ages). The obverse of the great seal, with its splendid eagle, the bundle of arrows, the olive branch, the 13 stripes, the 13 stars, the glory breaking from the clouds and the "E Pluribus Unum," is magnificently American, but the pyramid, the desert, the forbidding Egyptian sky and the eye in the triangle on the reverse are simply barbarous.

The great seal of the Confederacy by a strange arbitrament of fate was never used. It was made in England and reached Richmond about the time of its evacuation by the armies of the lost cause and the Confederate government. Its motto was "Deo Vindice" (God Maintains). The seal is a handsome silver die about three inches in diameter, bearing an equestrian portrait of Washington (after the statue in Richmond), surrounded with a wreath composed of cotton, tobacco sugar cane, corn, wheat and rice—the principal products of the Confederate states. It cost in England about $600, with press, wafers, seal papers, wax, silk cords, etc. It was presented to the state of South Carolina about 1887 and is kept in the office of the secretary of state.

Ask the professor if he remembers that Minnesota, founded by Americans, is the only state in the Union that has a French motto. The one originally selected and ordered engraved was Latin, but the die was spoiled and the French substitute was adopted, "L'Etoile du Nord" (The Star of the North). Does the professor recall that Montana is the only state with a Spanish motto? Strange that fur traders should have adopted "Oro y Plata" (Gold and Silver). If you say that one state has a Greek motto, he probably will do some pretty hard thinking before answering that it is California. "Eureka" is believed to be Greek for "I have found." The only Italian motto belongs to Maryland, and it originally belonged to the Calvert family, "Fatti Maschi, Parole Femine" (Deeds Are Males, Words Females). To be a trifle plainer, "Manly Deeds, Womanly Words." Ask the professor if he knows that Washington is the only state with an Indian motto. "Al-Ki" is pure Chinook for by and by, in the future or hereafter.—Exchange.

DR. W. SEWARD WEBB.

The great railroad magnate has invented a new game. It consists in taking a party of friends on a special train and racing against time across the continent. On his recent trip from San Francisco to his home in Vermont Dr. Webb's luxurious special made the distance in exactly four days. At times he and his guests rode at the rate of more than 70 miles an hour.

GRANDMAS OF TODAY.

KEEP IN THE RACE WITH THE YOUNG PEOPLE TO THE END.

Old Fashioned Grandmother Who Sat Darning Stockings a Thing of the Past.

I was bemoaning the fact that I had never known my grandmothers. One died before I was born and the other when I was a few months old. I thought it would be so comforting to have a grandmother because they always regarded their grandchildren as being incapable of doing wrong. At least they were sure to multiply one's virtues and minimize faults. Their chief object in life, as I picture them, was to minister to their descendants' comfort, to make the crooked places straight. The grandmother of my fancy would keep my clothes in repair, darn the stockings, knit plenty of washrags and silk mittens, surprise me with my favorite dishes, laugh at my jokes and generally submerge her life in the affairs of mine. What was I going to do in return for all this unselfish devotion? I would be her granddaughter. That, according to the old traditions, was quite enough compensation.

I was holding forth, exploiting my views and desires on the grandmother question in the presence of one of those people who delight to take a person down and make him feel cheap, especially if they imagine one is posing as younger than the family Bible records. This individual spoke up and said: "Why, if your grandmothers were living they would be so aged that they would be mummified. Instead of darning your stockings, knitting your mittens, they would be blind, deaf and imbecile. You would have to tend them with greater slavishness than a mother a newborn babe, and without the sweet recompense in the latter case. When people become imbecile with age, they grow repulsive, and the prolonging of this state is dreadful, while each day the unfolding of a budding life is filled with mysterious delights."

Of course I did not want a grandmother that was deaf, blind and imbecile. I thought I would drop the subject, as it appeared to be getting personal. But my companion continued: "Besides, could it be possible in the order of things for you to have a vigorous, industrious, capable grandmother, she would not be sitting at the chimney corner darning your stockings. She would be out attending to her lodge or club business, visiting the millinery openings, ordering a fashionable gown, playing cards or attending a high tea. The old fashioned grandmother is as much a thing of the past as the spinning wheel, the canalboat, stagecoach, making candles and family rendered soap."

I protested that I did not believe my grandmothers would be of the modern pattern. I had heard my mother tell often of how completely her mother lost her taste for society and outside affairs after she had grandchildren. She had raised a large family, but these reproductions were just as much a delight as had been the originals. She infinitely preferred their society to that of grown people. Their prattle, school experiences, little ambitions, filled her life completely. She was constantly planning surprises for them by making animal cakes, individual pies, candy, aprons, hoods, doll clothes.

"Yes, but if she lived now she would be different. The air she would breathe is filled with assertive germs which declare that every woman owes it to herself to have a career and stand at the helm and steer it to the very end. She must not allow her life to be submerged in that of her own children, as they make their appearance rather unwelcome frequently, but must have outside missions. As soon as her offspring is married off, which is accomplished with as great dispatch as diplomacy can secure, then she is free to carry out pet schemes and natural desires untrammeled."

"Perhaps you are right," I replied. Such a grandmother as this would be no comfort to me as a grandmother, while she might be a most helpful friend, and I could be proud of her position in the literary, artistic or philanthropic world as her tastes might dictate her pursuit.

A grandmother of my acquaintance said to me not long ago: "It would be a great trial to me to have my grandchildren or any children in the house with me now. I could not adapt myself to their demands and interruptions. I have raised my family and now want my time for individual pursuits." This woman has especial talents and necessities for using them, and in her case these feelings may not seem unnatural. But this is much the sentiment that possesses the grandmothers of the age who have no special missions or avocations outside the domestic circle. If they have means, they buy handsome gifts for their grandchildren and wish them to have all the advantages possible that do not represent personal self sacrifice or curtailment of freedom of action.

Women are imbued with the spirit of the age, which demands that there shall be no old ladies with caps and shawls who stay at home and guard the fireside, but that they must keep in the race with the young people to the very end.—Susan W. Ball in Terre Haute Gazette.

Made Fat by Water.

There is a six foot laundryman in Norristown who weighs 300 pounds. It is his own fault too.

"When I was 18," he will explain sadly, "I was like a lead pencil. A thinner fellow you never saw. I heard then that if I wished to get fat I need only to drink, morning and evening, as much water as I could hold. I wanted very badly to get fat, so I began this water treatment. A pint or so was at first my limit, and even that would sicken me, but as time passed my capacity became greater. Soon I could drink two or three quarts, and in time I could as easily drink a gallon. Well, the result was excellent. I took on flesh at a great rate. I got, too, so that I enjoyed my long night and morning drinks. I would look forward to my gallon draft all through the day. When, after seven years, I had reached the nice weight of 170 pounds, I decided to stop the treatment. But, alas, I couldn't. The long habit had grown too strong. It had made me a slave. And ever since I have been drinking, night and morning, a gallon of water—I do enjoy it so—and every year I taken on from 15 to 20 pounds. Finally, I guess, I'll bust."—Philadelphia Record.

THE SPITTING HABIT

Need of Public Sentiment That the Practice Is Indecent and Barbarous.

The Journal of the American Medical association contains the following under the caption, "The Question of Anti-Expectoration," which should be read carefully by every one:

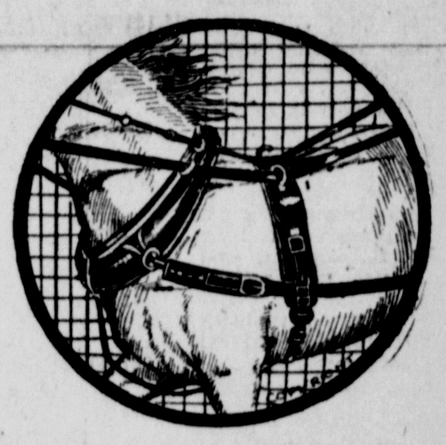

"There is no physician—at least we confidently assume this to be the case—who will not endorse anti-spitting ordinances on general principles. If there is any way in which the tuberculosis germs can be universally disseminated it is through expectoration, and there are other sanitary objections, only a little less emphatic, against the practice, to say nothing of moral and esthetic ones. If the anti-tuberculosis crusade does nothing more than put a stop tto the abominable practice of public expectoration in all sorts of places it will deserve the gratitude of mankind.

"What we want is a creation of public sentiment that it is indecent and disreputable to spit in public places, and when that exists it will not be difficult to make the act unprofitable and to enforce regulations against it. Our civilization is too far behind that of other countries in this regard; a duly educated public opinion bringing the public spitter into proper contempt is what we need. It may be necessary to acquire this before anti-spitting regulations can be fully enforced, but the present agitation, if not allowed to die out, will help to bring this about. Let us have anti-spitting laws and enforce them as far as we can."

Going to Washington State.

Lisbon, April 30.—E. R. Maxfield and wife have sold their home property on Pine street to Isaac Patterson. Today Mr. Maxfield and family, Mr. Bayton and family, Will Gamble and family and Fred Stahl left on the western excursion to locate in Washington. The families of Mr. Maxfield and Mr. Bayton will locate near Port Angeles.

The Passing of the Horse

The automobile has come but man's faithful servants will continue to fill an important position for many years, if properly equipped with harness and vehicles—we supply the kind that gives satisfaction, and at a price that same money cannot buy elsewhere.
